Want Start On Arms Aid

Acheson Calls For It in Program That is Already Under Attack

WASHINGTON, July 28—(P)—Secretary of State Acheson told congress today the United States should begin promptly to help rearm western Europe because "the possibilities of direct military aggression" by huge Soviet forces cannot be ignored.

Leading off the administration's drive for congressional approval of a $1,450,000,000 arms aid program, Acheson pictured western European countries as living under the shadow and constant fear of Russian armies which are the greatest the world has known in peacetime.

He also suggested that Russia is approaching a crossroads in its policies toward the west where it may have to choose whether to continue trying conquest by political means or to resort to "military means."

Is Under Attack

Acheson appeared before the House foreign affairs committee to make his plea for the arms program, already under attack by influential Congress members.

Acheson said "the mere presence" of the large Russian force "has had a psychological effect that has been damaging to recovery and stability and has been a major influence in the loss of freedom and self-determination in important areas of Europe."

"Nor can the possibilities of direct military aggression be ignored," he said. "When political aggression fails, as it has failed so far in western Europe, totalitarian regimes are often tempted to gain their objectives by military means, particularly when they consider that no effective resistance is possible."

"It is our aim to forestall that possibility by making it clear that military aggression against the nations of western Europe can be undertaken only at great cost and with no assurance of success."

Acheson repeatedly told the committee that if this country would back up the pledges of the North Atlantic Treaty with military assistance he believes peace would be secured and no aggressor would dare take on the whole combination of western powers.

"The fundamental pledge of the treaty, that an attack on one signatory will mean an attack on all, closes the door to piecemeal aggression," Acheson said.

Make Aggression Hazardous

The bulk of the proposed arms aid would go to the pact nations. Acheson said that in the light of treaty pledges and with the arms program he did not believe "any aggressor at this time would dare" to take the "desperate gamble of an all-out war."

"The gangster mind likes to gamble only on sure things," he said.

"It is the aim of this program to insure that successful swift and comparatively effortless military action by an aggressor would be impossible and therefore to make the gamble too hazardous to be tempting."

One after another Acheson sought to meet the criticisms of the arms program by Senate and House members during the Senate debate on ratification of the treaty.

He said that because "our resources are limited" it is necessary to concentrate the main American effort on Europe. He

Charge Father Sold His Child

BESSEMER, Ala., July 28—(P)—A young father has been accused of selling his two-and-a-half year old daughter for $500. Police said they are checking reports that he offered his other daughter age eight months, for adoption for $600.

The father, Layman Alvin Edwards, 26-year-old unemployed miner, told reporters he agreed to the adoption of his daughter Jewel because "I couldn't give her the things she needs."

Edwards' 24-year-old wife said $140 of the money went to buy a 1936 automobile.

Police Chief Lacey Alexander said the miner was jailed yesterday for investigation. The chief and the solicitor's office will confer on what formal charges are to be filed against Edwards.

Jewel has been living with the W. H. Sessions for the past three months. The Sessions, who are childless, have started adoption proceedings.

Just a Reminder Cooler Days Ahead

That winter will later move in after the anticipated break in the intense heat that has prevailed in this area was brought to the attention of numerous Sedalians this morning when a large transfer truck of the Schien lines brought in a shipment of sleds.

They were being unloaded at the Montgomery Ward store warehouse and while they didn't even bring a shiver to ones glimpsing them, it was just a gentle reminder that cooler days are coming, with snow, sleet and ice.

Write A New Farm Price Support Bill

Radically Different Plan Of Brannan Is Out Of The Picture

WASHINGTON, July 28—(P)—With the Brannan plan plowed under, the Senate agriculture committee set out to write a new farm price support bill.

Sort Of Hybrid

There were indications it would be sort of a hybrid, containing elements of the present high-level support law and the flexible system established by the Aiken act, passed by the Republican 80th congress and due to go into effect next year unless repealed.

But the radically different plan proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan appeared entirely out of the picture.

The committee authorized a seven-man sub-committee, headed by Sen. Anderson (D-NM), to draw up a new bill.

In advance, it seemed likely to provide for the retention of the present relatively high government support for basic commodities such as wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, rice and peanuts. For perishables such as meat and dairy products, however, sentiment seemed to lean toward a flexible system where the level of supports could be raised or lowered in an effort to control production.

Authorizes Flexible Support

The Aiken act, which will become effective next Jan. 1 unless the House and Senate get together on a bill before then authorizes such flexible supports.

Aiken expressed his willingness to cooperate with Anderson in working out a bill aimed, so Anderson says, at making the Aiken act "more serviceable."

One of the problems before the sub-committee is whether to retain the present parity formula or adopt a new one based on more up-to-date farm prices. Some sentiment was evident for using a recent 10-year period as the base.

Sen. Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) apparently kissed off the Brannan plan for this session.

"We have spent all summer on it and the time is too short to take it up because the country does not understand it," he said.

Thomas said, however, he doesn't think price supports can be kept at wartime levels all the way through.

That, in essence, was what the House voted to do last week in calling for continuation of the present law for another year and repeal of the Aiken act.

Steel Workers Want Increase

NEW YORK, July 28—(P)—President Philip Murray of the CIO steelworkers announced today his union wants a package increase of 30 cents per hour in their current dispute, including a fourth round wage increase of 12½ cents.

Murray revealed the demands for the first time at the opening session of the fact finding board appointed by President Truman to avert a strike in the dispute.

Murray was the first speaker for the union before the board. The demands also include 11.23 cents per hour for pensions and 6.27 cents per hour for social insurance.

The Weather

Partly cloudy and continued warm tonight and Fri. Low tonight in lower 70s. High 90.

Lake of the Ozarks: 9; fall 2.

Thought for Today

Consult your friend on all things, especially on those which respect yourself. His counsel may then be useful, where your own self-love might impair your judgment. —Seneca.

Now Into an Era to Reach Adjustment

John F. Zander in Address Today to Kiwanis Club

Today is an era of adjustment back to normal and is considerably different from the bleak days of the early thirties when then as now we might exclaim "Where Do We Go From Here?" according to John F. Zander, manager, Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, speaking before the Sedalia Kiwanis club in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon.

R. E. Mullen, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Talk on Air Academy

Zander in his talk said in part: "The Air Academy, upon which considerable money, time, and effort have been expended, is now in a state of animated suspension."

A lot of hard work has been expended in an effort to bring such a fine federal institution to this part of the country. When the field was closed at the end of World War II another plan of action was instigated to establish a U. S. air academy which would be on a par with West Point for the Army and Annapolis for the Navy, and again it took the untiring efforts, finances and time of many Sedalians interested in building a better town. The important thing to remember now is that we are still in the running and in my opinion, the chances for Sedalia eventually getting this academy are by far greater than the chances of any other community or section of this country.

Worth Making Bigger

"And so, 'Where do we go from here?' Are we now going to sit back in complacency and do 'absolutely nothing for our future?' Are we going to sit back and accept the Socialist aims and ambitions to let the state take care of us because we don't have a chance and we believe that we are heading straight for a depression and there's nothing you or I or anyone can do about it?"

Not as long as we actually believe that if Sedalia is worth living in, certainly Sedalia is worth making better, and that it is even worth making it bigger, not for the sake of bigness alone, but for the economic, cultural and social advantages that bigness can bring.

"What will Sedalia be like tomorrow and the many tomorrows of the future? You and I and many others like us would probably give anything to know the answer to that question, yet I believe the best answer is to plan a definite program of work which will establish a priority of importance for various projects carried on in Sedalia and lead to, their successful accomplishment through the Chamber's help and support. Within the very near future every member of the Chamber of Commerce will be asked to help plan and develop the program of work for Sedalia's future. When you get the questionnaire which will be sent out, give it some serious thought and consideration in the interest of a better town in which to live and above all write down your convictions and be sure to return

Imperative on Cases of Polio

The John H. Bothwell Memorial hospital received the following telegram from C. F. Adams, M. D., acting director of the Division of Health for Missouri:

"Bothwell Hospital, Sedalia, Missouri: 'Mounting poliomyelitis incidence makes imperative you consider admitting acute poliomyelitis cases your area to your hospital. National foundation pledges professional consultation, necessary equipment, personnel and financial reimbursement. Wire beds you can make available if cases develop your locality.'

"C. F. Adams, M. D., 'Acting Director, 'Division of Health.'

The hospital is making arrangements to care for any polio cases that may develop in this area. This request was made due to the fact that all polio centers are overcrowded, and since more cases are developing daily, further facilities must be arranged. The hospital, board of trustees, and staff feel that this is a community problem and should be handled locally. The public is urged to take a sensible attitude and realize that the problem can be managed.

Joseph Eugene Wheeler, who is a victim of poliomyelitis now confined in the hospital, is doing as well as could be expected. All polio cases will be cared for in restricted isolation, against the danger of other hospital patients contracting the disease, although the danger is no greater for the average person out in town.

The Pettis county chapter of the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation are willing to give their full cooperation in every possible way.

Sedalia Connection in the Romance of Barkley

The speculated romance of Vice President Alban W. Barkley, with Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, St. Louis, is of interest to Sedalians. Mrs. Hadley is the former Miss Jane Rucker, who resided in Sedalia at 514 Dal-Whi-Mo court, several years ago.

Mrs. Hadley is a daughter of Mrs. Estle Rucker, 7300 Cornell avenue, St. Louis, and Roy W. Rucker, of Kansas City. Her father will be remembered as a former prosecuting attorney of Pettis county, prior to the family moving to Kansas City, where Mr. Rucker went into a law firm.

The Kansas City Times this morning carried a story by the Star's Washington correspondent,

Duke Shoop, about the possible romance. Questioned in Kansas City last night about the possibilities of a romance between his daughter and the vice president, Roy Rucker denied knowing anything more than the Washington teacup gossip.

Mrs. Hadley is the mother of two daughters, 18 and 15 years old. She studied at Washington university and later in Rome, concentrating on French, which she reads and writes fluently. She formerly was secretary to A. H. Compton, chancellor at Washington university.

Clark M. Clifford, who introduced Mrs. Hadley to the vice president, was best man at her wedding, Rucker explained.

Congress in As to Bomb

Right to Help In Decision as to Share Secrets

WASHINGTON, July 28—(P)—President Truman said today the administration and congress will "have to decide together" what course is wisest in the further development of atomic energy.

By Oliver W. DeWolf

WASHINGTON, July 28—(P)—Congress members appeared today to have won a major victory in the hot dispute over their right to help decide whether atomic secrets are to be shared with other nations.

Lawmakers greeted with obvious satisfaction the presidential olive branch held out yesterday at a closed door meeting of state department, military, atomic and congressional policy makers.

Mr. Truman told the Senate-House atomic committee through Secretary of State Acheson that he feels any action on the share-the-atom issue must have the support of both Congress and the executive branch of government.

A vital factor in the question of sharing the nation's A-bomb secrets with Britain and Canada is the fact that the United States is largely dependent on those countries for its supplies of uranium — the material that makes atomic weapons possible.

Announcement of the president's position, as outlined by Acheson, was made by Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), chairman of the joint committee, following the 90-minute meeting in a secluded Senate office room.

"Status Quo" Plan

McMahon's statement further disclosed that Acheson, acting on presidential instructions, had outlined a plan for "maintaining the status quo" and also for conducting exploratory discussions with the British and Canadians.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) ranking GOP member of the joint committee, said he understood Acheson's plan to mean the United States would not divulge any atomic secrets on a "higher level" than at present. He added he is satisfied now that Congress and the joint committee will not be by-passed.

Hickenlooper over the weekend had declared that this country must not be allowed to forfeit its lead in the atomic field by giving its know-how on weapons to any other country.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif) who earlier had threatened to carry to the Senate floor a fight to prevent any secrets being given away without congressional approval, said he felt that "substantial and satisfactory progress" was made at yesterday's meeting.

Team Work For Cutting Cost

WASHINGTON, July 28—The Senate stamped approval today on a broad-term measure expected to bring closer teamwork between the army, navy and air forces and cut their multi-billion dollar annual costs.

By voice vote it approved a compromise between Senate and House bills tightening up the original Unification act of 1947.

Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) of the Senate Armed Services committee obtained Senate approval after explaining that the compromise includes most provisions previously voted by the Senate. The changes made, he said, were merely "clarifying amendments."

The conference report now goes to the House.

Child Burned by Acid

Virginia Sue Salmon, 23-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Salmon, route 1, Sedalia, was burned on the upper part of her left leg about 12:45 o'clock this afternoon by a battery acid. The little girl found the bottle containing some of the acid on a trash pile. She was taken to the Bothwell hospital, where she was given emergency treatment. Her burns are not serious.

Try to Defeat Gas Tax Hike

Steps Toward a Referendum For Election in 1950

JEFFERSON CITY, July 28—(P)—A third group announced today it will try to defeat a proposed two-cent increase in Missouri's gasoline tax with a referendum vote in the 1950 general election.

The Missouri Petroleum Industries committee, representing oil dealers, joined the Automobile Club of Missouri and the Missouri Petroleum Association (jobbers) in the referendum fight.

A fourth group — the Missouri Bus and Truck Association — is polling its directors to decide whether to join the others.

To put the question on the 1950 ballot, opponents of Gov. Forrest Smith's plan to double the present two-cent tax must get 55,000 petition signatures by Oct. 16. That will hold up the whole program until the voters pass on it next year.

The present legislature passed the tax increase bill and it is before the governor. He has not indicated when he will sign it but has expressed opposition to a referendum.

Under the bill, revenue from one of the extra cents tax would be spent on low type rural roads by the state highway commission and county courts.

C. C. Diviny of Kansas City, chairman of the Petroleum Industries committee, said in a statement this "would be the first step away from sound, economical and non-political highway planning, construction and maintenance under an efficient highway commission."

"It would permit the wasteful and political expenditure of the taxpayers' money and would thereby open the door to continuous pressure on the legislature for still further tax increases upon highway users."

Four Lose Lives In Severe Storms

By The Associated Press

Violent storms in Wisconsin and New Jersey yesterday took a toll of four lives.

Three of the fatalities occurred in Milwaukee as an electrical storm swept over eastern Wisconsin. Telephone and electric lines snapped in high winds and numerous automobiles were left stranded in flooded streets.

The Milwaukee casualties were two women and a man. All were killed when a high tension wire fell on their automobile.

Telephone and electric lines also were down in Green Bay and Sheboygan, Wis., and a number of streets were closed as a result of the hazardous conditions.

At Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., a freakish thunderstorm swept Mrs. Edna Michel, 54, down a gutter into a sewage culvert to her death.

The unusual drowning occurred as Mrs. Michel tried to cross a deep torrent of water on a Hasbrouck Heights street. The swift current knocked her down and carried her for two blocks into a drainage culvert.

A brief but violent thunderstorm also hit metropolitan New York City, stalling some subway trains for several hours, and causing considerable damage.

Labor Troubles in Australia Mount

SYDNEY, Australia, July 28—(P)—Australia's labor troubles boiled up today, as Communist extremists clashed with moderates and police in Sydney and Melbourne.

In Melbourne, 400 striking seamen and Communists marched on Parliament House. Police drove them back from the steps of the building.

The seamen were protesting the action of the Victoria cabinet in declaring a state of emergency in Victoria. They also demanded that good morning state wires starting MK1 next.

Indicated 1949 Be Pretty Good Industry Year

Automobiles And Steel Lead In The First Half Gains

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK, July 28—(P)—Forty-nine may be a pretty good year for earnings in many industries, after all.

Income statements for the first half-year show many of the largest corporations making more than they did in the touted 1948 of happy profit memory.

Many of these statements are coupled with warnings that income turned down in the last couple of months, and even with predictions in some cases that the second half may be much lower than 1948's closing months.

But the profit momentum built up by many companies in the first half of this year—with the first quarter pulling most of the income load—should average out for the entire year at a pleasant and respectably high figure.

Automobiles lead this category, apparently. But almost without exception the steel companies are reporting their first six months earnings well above those in the same period of 1948.

On the declining side are most of the rails, but not all, and most of the oil companies, although not all. In the case of the oils, this year's comparisons are with a record 1948 period which most oilmen will admit was as unusual as the weather. And the earnings they are reporting this year, although smaller than last year are far from puny.

More Increases Than Declines

The industrial list is divided, but among the larger corporations more are showing earnings increases over last year than are showing declines.

Look at the steel companies reporting this week—all with earnings above last year: U. S. Steel, Jones & Laughlin, Inland, National Republic, Wheeling, Pittsburgh, Youngstown Sheet and Tube. Today the number two producer, Bethlehem reports.

General Motors reports today its second quarter sales and earnings set a new high record. Its first half earnings were $303½ million, compared with $206½ million last year in the same period. That doesn't sound much like a recession in Detroit.

Other large industrial, chemical and food companies reporting this week that they have bested last year's first half marks include: National Biscuit, Dow Chemical, Industrial Business Machines, Pittsburgh Plate Glass, Colgate-Palmolive-Peet, Westinghouse, Corn Products Refining, Foster Wheeler, Minneapolis-Honeywell, Regulator, Air Reduction.

Most of the railroads report earnings running behind this time last year.

Barnsdall Oil Co., was one of the few petroleum corporations to report earnings ahead this year.

Most of the utilities, but not all, are doing better this year, too. Companies not doing so well this year as last, in addition to most of the oils and the rails, include some of the textiles, carpet, lumber, office equipment and a few of the chemical corporations. All of these, however, show profit this year, no losses.

The airlines, of course, are outstanding examples of companies which just now are showing profits in comparison to last year's deficits. Only a few have reported so far, but almost all say they are showing black ink entries in the second quarter.

The year may not average off so bad, after all.

Barkley Not Shopping For Wedding Ring

CHICAGO, July 28—(P)—Vice President Barkley says he wasn't shopping for a wedding ring when he spoke at the National Association of Credit Jewelers convention last night.

The 71-year-old widower, after his address, told reporters: "Don't ask me about any woman in St. Louis. I'm not here to buy a wedding ring, as one of you suggested."

Barkley stopped at St. Louis last Sunday and paid a social visit to Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, a St. Louis widow he met recently in Washington.

Protest Bombing That Killed Five

ATHENS, July 28—(P)—The Greek foreign ministry said today a Yugoslav plane had bombed a Greek plane near the Greek border 15 days ago and killed five civilians.

The Yugoslav protest said a Greek officer refused when asked by the Yugoslavs to investigate the incident.

C. of C. Letters To Chest Agencies

Letters have been mailed by the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce to participating agencies of the Community Chest asking that they submit their proposed 1950 budget and a financial statement of their 1949 expenditures to the Community Chest Board, which will be in session all day Tuesday, August 16.

W. C. Askew is director of the Community Chest Solicitations. Harry Naugel is chairman of the Community Chest Board and W. C. Stephenson is vice chairman.

Picked up After a Long Trip by Taxi

Man Held in County Jail Here For Observation

A man identified by a social security card as Charles Robert Harold Kelly, 40, is being held in the Pettis county jail for observation after being picked up about 1:30 o'clock this morning. He was first suspected as a possible hold-up man after he had hired a taxi cab to take him to Trenton, then made the driver return from Carrollton, and then jumped from the cab at the Sedalia city limits.

He man went to the Harrison Cab Co., Second street and Massachusetts avenue, about 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night and hired Billy Rimmel, 732 East Fourth street, driver, to take him to Trenton. He paid Rimmel $25.00 for the trip and Rimmel had Mrs. Rimmel to ride with him for company on the return trip. They left about 7:40 o'clock and went out Highway 63 enroute to Trenton. They had almost reached Carrollton when the man told him to turn around, that he had decided to go back to Springfield.

Rimmel reported they turned around and the man kept insisting he drive faster and not let any cars catch up with him or pass them. The man, Rimmel said, told him he had some business back at Springfield and expected to get about $125.00 from his brother-in-law and would then go back to Trenton.

Jumped From Taxi

As they neared Sedalia about 11 o'clock the man saw a car coming from the rear and told Rimmel to stop. Rimmel started to slow down and when going not more than twenty-five or thirty miles an hour his passenger jumped out. Rimmel said, "I was too scared to see if he got hurt, but drove plenty fast to the police station."

Tom Thuston, Negro, 300 North Osage avenue, called at police headquarters and told them he saw the man get out of the cab and run to Thuston's car and tried to open the door. He said his wife got frightened and he did, too. Thinking it was a holdup, Thuston speeded up to get away and went directly to the police and made the report.

Police and State Patrolmen went to the scene but were unable to find any trace of the man. This was about 11 o'clock. Nearly two and a half hours later, police received a prowler call from 407 South Engineer avenue and made a run to that place. Another call was received a man had run through the Welcome Inn, Third street and Engineer avenue, a short time before.

Police and the State Patrol, began circling the area to look for the prowler while one car checked with neighbors as to a description of the man. The man was first seen crawling over a fence behind Norman Stevens Co., Fourth street and Engineer avenue, into the back yard of Roy M. Mitchell, 407 South Engineer.

Shot to Frighten

Mr. Mitchell called to the man and took one shot with a shotgun through the bedroom window to scare him. The man ran between the house and Mitchell took another shot. Neither shots struck Kelly.

At Fourth street and Wagner avenue, a block east of Engineer, as the Police Patrol came around, the man ran out shouting to them to stop. He got into the car and was taken to police headquarters. He told the officers he noticed Dismissed: Miss Frances C. Loges, 1204 East Ninth street; Mrs. M. L. Greer and daughter, 1510 South Vermont avenue; Mrs. Mark Biggs and daughter, 308 North Grand avenue; Melvin Langkrah, route 5, Sedalia; Bryan Short, Royal hotel, and Miss Jean Rollins, of Detroit, Mich.

Admitted for medical treatment: Miss Mary Lou McCluney, 614 West Seventh street.

Spying Quarter Century

J. A. Marcus in Story Before Sub-Committee Of Judiciary

WASHINGTON, July 28—(P)—How "worth billions of dollars," has been stolen by Soviet spies in the last 25 years, a Senate judiciary subcommittee was told today.

The witness was J. Anthony Marcus of New York City, president of the Institute of Foreign Trade. He described the institute as a private organization that advises American exporting and importing firms.

Marcus, who said he came to this country from Russia in 1910, testified that "I have been witnessing the filching of American technological know-how" by Russian agents over the last quarter of a century.

"The center of the Soviet economic spy system in America," he said, "has been and still is the Amtorg Trading Corporation of New York. Amtorg is the Russian government's trading agency."

The committee is holding hearings on a bill of Senator McCarran (D-Nev) to make it easier for the government to bar or deport subversive aliens.

Warns Against Talking Ourselves Into a Depression

By Bruce Blossat

"As a nation we cannot afford to become economic hypochondriacs because a country, like an individual, can worry itself sick."

This and a lot more talk like it came recently from Charles Luckman, president of Lever Brothers Company, the big soap and food products maker.

Always a dynamo Luckman was whirling at his highest pitch as he outlined for Americans the key reasons they should stop quaking with fear over prospects of a depression.

He cited 50,000,000 workers on the job, $200,- 000,000,000 in liquid savings and an estimated $215,000,000,000 total personal income for 1949.

"It would seem preposterous that anyone could manipulate these figures and come up with an answer that equals disaster," he said.
"Yet that is precisely what many Americans are doing."

It's true. And sad and a bit ironic, too. Not many months ago the big cry was: "Let's halt this dangerous rise in prices." Now we've done it and the resulting downturn has us scared stiff.

For a long time we'd been breaking more business records than we had any right to expect we could. Now, just because we've slacked off from that smashing pace, the attitude of many is that we're heading for ruin.
Businessmen, politicians, commentators, citizens of every walk nervously await each august announcement from high places on where we stand.

Luckman will have done us a service if his talk at Los Angeles helps to shake us out of this silly frame of mind.

His advice, naturally, was directed most pointedly at businessmen who had grown accustomed to a plush state of affairs and were shocked when those conditions vanished.

"Sales managers, vice presidents and presidents have shiny pants from hatching profits on cushioned chairs," he said. "Let's go out and sell goods."

A lot of us who aren't executives have had things pretty fat since the war ended and maybe we, too, have shiny pants.

Certainly, it's foolish for us to sit around expecting the private enterprise system to prove itself to us through thick and thin. It can only work if we make it work. So if we can just stop trembling long enough, maybe we can get the jobs done that will keep the economy going smoothly.

True Liberalism Adapts Itself To Changing Times

By Bruce Blossat

What does it mean to be a liberal?

In the 19th century, liberalism meant a high degree of freedom from government restrictions in both the economic and political realms.
It set the stage for the commercial and industrial growth that made over much of the world.
In the 20th century, by an odd twist, liberalism seems to symbolize the very opposite tendencies: Bigger government, more restrictions, less room for free choice.

How can the term "liberalism" have any worth if it can be stretched to cover these extremes?

Let's wade into the confusion surrounding this sadly overworked term and see if we can't determine whether it still has any value.

To have any continuing meaning, liberalism clearly must be defined in a manner that will make it adaptable to changing times and conditions.

To define it thus means to free it from any permanent association with a fixed pattern of ideas, whether social, economic or political. In other words, it can't be identified with a pattern of doctrine, for political philosophies become outmoded and die.

Obviously, if liberalism meant just the 19th century variety, it is practically dead today. If it means big government, it might wither away in some future time when trends perhaps veer in another direction.

Couldn't it be possible that liberalism is really an attitude, a way of thinking that shifts to meet the varying circumstances of an always changing society? But what sort of an attitude?

The record of history suggests an answer.
The men who have earned the liberal label seem to have had in common a bold willingness to experiment, to try the new, to shatter old frameworks in quest of solutions to pressing human problems.

By contrast, conservatives appear most often to search for answers within the existing structure of society. They may be no less concerned with solving human problems; they simply are pre-disposed to solve them without breaking new ground.

If a liberal is properly defined as a ground breaker, then in one era he may favor fewer government restrictions and in another he might seek more. His eye is on the problems facing society. He feels no allegiance to any cause but their solution.

Liberalism thus characterized is not a monopoly of any political party. It may exist side by side with conservatism — and does — in both major U. S. parties. By the same token, any individual may exhibit both liberal and conservative tendencies.

But the liberal attitude must show itself in action if it is to count. It is hardly enough to announce, "I am a liberal," in the hope that you thereby establish yourself on a high plane of righteousness. You earn the label solely by seeking liberal solutions to problems.

Furthermore, it is just as honorable and important to be a conservative. Society is not always breaking new ground in all directions; much of the time it is busy nurturing and improving ground already broken.

Liberalism and conservatism represent our most fundamental attitudes toward life. They are natural tendencies that ought to be honestly expressed. Nothing is sillier than to regard liberalism automatically as a cloak of virtue.
It is a sound, useful attitude; but it is not the only one a man of good will can have.

Middle-Bracket Housing

There's still one more piece of housing legislation the Truman administration would like to get through. It's a bill to provide housing aids for the middle-income groups. The housing bill just passed is intended to improve housing conditions for some 810,000 low-income families, as well as to clear many slums. The next step is to do something for families in the $2500-to-$4,000-a-year income group. Labor unions are particularly interested in the welfare of this group. What they want are direct loans for single family housing developments, organized as cooperatives and made eligible for 100 per cent government financing on 40 to 60-year terms at 2½ per cent interest, where private financing is not available. No action is expected on such legislation at this session, although several such bills have been introduced. They will still be on the calendar for consideration by Congress next year.

For Better or For Worse?

Recent tragic air crashes in various parts of the world have pointed up the lack of official statistics on international air travel. I.A.T.A. — the International Air Transport Association — which has headquarters in Montreal, is now trying to remedy this deficiency. It has asked all international air carriers to report facts and figures on all accidents. Best estimates are that in 1946 there was one passenger fatality for every 28,000,000 passenger miles flown. In 1947 the estimate is one killed for every 21,- 000,000 passenger miles flown. Estimates for 1948 have not been made, but it is believed the record will be better than in the two previous years. Crashes thus far in 1949 are at a rate that could make this year's record worse.

What They Say

Dr. Charles D. Osborne (Sedalia) — We are again confronted with infantile paralysis in the state and throughout the middle west, and now we have one recognized case in our Sedalia hospital. The disease has not reached epidemic proportions in Missouri. Again we are experiencing some of those symptoms of fear which lead to panic — panic which is both unintelligent and cruel. We have had infantile paralysis with us for the past forty years to my personal knowledge as a physician. Rarely has a year passed without my having seen at least one case. The recovered victims are testimony to its
hygienic and sanitary measures there is nothing to do that is effective as a preventive measure. To be adequately equipped and armed to treat the disease when it occurs is all that we can do. It is a disease that more than any other requires hospital care. The presence of a patient in the hospital does not create an extra hazard for the other patients nor does it jeopardize the well being of nurses or other employees of the hospital.

Physicians treating the disease and nurses in immediate care of the patient should be the most liable to it as both are usually under more or less strain. I have, in forty years, known of but one doctor to have the disease and he had been on vacation, had not seen a case of the disease for two years and the disease was not prevalent at the time.

Polio strikes like lightning and like lightning rarely strikes in the same place. It would be as sensible to abandon a golf course because someone had been the victim of a bolt as to leave the home community, a hotel, home or hospital because someone was or had been stricken there. You might run under the next bolt.

The closing of play grounds, recreation areas, churches and other places where people congregate seems almost silly and certainly is ineffective in the light of our past experience and present knowledge. The most potent aid to this scourge is FEAR. FEAR which engenders panic, individually and collectively. Fear in its very self-centeredness makes individuals obstructive to measures taken for the common good, thereby making one cruel toward the rest of us.

Several years ago I headed a committee of the Pettis County Medical Society to meet the then epidemic of this disease. Our hospital was unequipped with any apparatus and safeguards needed to treat the afflicted. We were forced to transport acute urgent cases to other cities where respirators were available, sometimes with results which were not so good and even disastrous.

Through the beneficence of Mr. Elliot Stat-ford, Sr., trustee of the Mae Hawkins Ilgenfritz fund, we obtained the latest model Iron Lung by express from Boston. Through the activity of our present board of trustees and the activity of their efficient business manager and chief nurse we have at hand those other safeguards and a corps of nurses trained in the use of all apparatus. Our sole need to meet all requirements is a modern oxygen tent with refrigeration which may be had at a little under $1,000.00. If any individual or organization wishes to donate this machine to Bothwell hospital they can contact the manager.

With all safeguards provided in our own hospital, with a staff of less overworked physicians augmented by quite a few young active doctors who are seasoned and well trained, this community can continue its normal activities secure in the knowledge that if polio strikes in their homes that at least they can have the best treatment and all of the safeguards immediately available.

The Doctor Says

Flat Feet Often Cause More Pain in Legs Than in Feet

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

One of the common causes for pains in the legs is foot trouble, particularly flat feet. When the arches have collapsed and are flat new strains appear. These strains are sometimes felt in the feet, but sometimes also they act on the muscles or joints of the legs and cause pain in these areas more than in the feet themselves.

Pain of such origin should, of course, be treated by correcting the foot trouble. This usually involves more than just wearing a pad or support. Physicians or chiropractors are often able to correct the difficulty so that the pains in the legs will disappear.

Another type of pain in the legs is one which comes on in the calf muscles after walking in the calf blocks rapidly or climbing stairs.
This condition goes under the name of intermittent claudication.
It is caused by insufficient supply of blood to the muscles usually because of hardening of the arteries in the legs.

Avoid Too Much Exercise

During rest the circulation is adequate but exercise increases the need for blood. This condition always requires the advice of a doctor as it may be a sign of hardening of the arteries. A person with this kind of pain should avoid taking so much exercise that it brings on the pain.

Quite a lot of people complain of pains in the legs which occur at night only and which may even wake them up from a sound sleep.
This is a puzzling condition but it is probably connected somehow with the circulation of the blood in the legs.

People with this symptom often say that if they get up and walk around for a short time the pain or cramps will disappear.

Neuritis or sciatica can also cause leg pains. Other diseases of the circulation, such as Buerger's disease, are possibilities.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

QUESTION: What causes dryness around the ears? Is it lack of some vitamin?

ANSWER: This condition is unlikely to be caused by a vitamin lack and something else is much more probable, such as an irritant with which the skin come in contact.

Labor-saving Devices Reduce Work, But Don't Add Glamor

A New York wife recently shot herself after a quarrel with her husband over who would do the

That incident is a not-so-gentle reminder that labor-saving devices alone can't take the drudg-

If a woman gets the idea that housework is beneath her dignity, she is going to feel like a drudge whether she plunges her hands in soapy dishwater or puts the dishes in a machine and flicks a switch.

Not so long ago I heard a father admit ruefully that when he built a new home for his family he thought he had eliminated most of the reasons for bickering among his children and complaints about housework from his wife.

Remembering that they fought every night about the dishes, he installed an electric dishwasher.
Recalling, also, that they argued as to whose turn it was to empty the garbage, he put a unit in the

REFUGE

By Mildred Crain and Harwood White Copyright 1949 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: When Mrs. Malone took a job as a cook for the wealthy, arrogant, eccentric Mrs.
Everson who lives in a gigantic trailer pulled by a truck, she did not realize the woman was fleeing from the Atom Bomb.

Everson has become convinced that an atomic war is impending—it might come any moment—and when it comes only a few minutes will remain on earth. Although Mrs. Malone believes the idea fantastic, Rudy the chauffeur who may once have been a movie star, says that she entertained many big scientists and politicians and that she has made talked out of turn. She is, in fact, a female Noah, says Rudy.
Also in the party, traveling in two trailers, are the Marchese DellaCasa, who is an exiled nobleman who is teaching Mrs. Everson formal manners, and Victor, a Filipino who teaches Mrs. Everson about the caravan and the chromium park. Mrs. Malone says she's not believing a single word.

VIII

THAT night Mrs. Malone could not sleep. Her berth was comfortable and the radio spoke reassuringly of commonplaces. The old patterns and categories seemed to be in order. But she was restless and uneasy.

At first she tried to reason herself into normal drowsiness. But all the hobgoblins of the past four years howled through her thoughts. The words: "One world, or none." The terrifying cartoons.
The sane, calm voices over the air speaking of the issue which would determine man's survival.

The Great Bomb fell, when the first Bomb fell, when the illusion of safety perished, together with thousands of Japanese civilians. The shock of realization, maybe our turn will be next.

And the sense of Power, but an aversion to using it.

Yet there the problem was: kill or be killed. The stench of hell was in the uranium piles.

Mrs. Malone sat straight up in bed. She thought: "I'm going nuts!
I've got to get out of here and go back to the city and people who have some sense. That woman!"

She threw back the bed coverings, got to her feet and began hastily to dress. The cubicle seemed suddenly too small, like a prison. Mrs. Malone pinned her heavy braided hair into place, packed the few things she had out, jammed her hat down on her head and snatched up her coat.

THE far door of the kitchen stood open and the entryway beyond was illumined by a tube of blue light. Mrs. Malone could hear voices in the salon, and peering at her wrist watch in the blue gloom, saw that it was after midnight.

Cautiously she hunted for the door, which she remembered when closed seemed part of the metal wall. An instrument panel offered a possibility of escape. She took a chance and turned one of the knobs.

Instantly the silver screen separated the entryway from the main compartment folded back.
Mrs. Everson and the Marchese DellaCasa were playing gin rummy. They glanced up, startled, at Mrs. Malone. Then Mrs. Everson spoke in her dark voice.

"You're trying to run away, aren't you?" she said.

"Yes."

"Come here."

"Please let me go," Mrs. Malone pleaded. "Please open the door and let me go. I'll hitch-hike back to Los Angeles."

"Come here," Mrs. Everson repeated.

Mrs. Malone took a few steps forward as the Marchese DellaCasa rose politely and faced her. He was a man of medium height, thin, with a worn, lined face and deeplidded eyes. His expression was remote, yet gentle and somehow friendly.

Mrs. Malone, who was accustomed to judging strangers, liked him at once. Since she hadn't expected to, she returned his smile balance. She returned his smile nervously and waited for Mrs.
Everson to speak.

"Yes. Rudy told you why I'm making this trip?"

"Yes. That's why I've changed my mind about the job."

"You're a fool. With me, you have a chance to live through an atomic blast that will destroy most of the world and most of its inhabitants."

MRS. MALONE searched her mind for a reply. At first nothing came. Then, with a flash of inspiration, she explained that she didn't wish to perish with the others.

Mrs. Everson made an imperative gesture with her long, painted hand.

"Angelo," she said to the Marchese, "persuade her. After all, we can't do without a cook!"

The Marchese smiled again.
Gently, very gently he put his hand on Mrs. Malone's arm, turned her about, and urged her toward the entry and the kitchen to her room. There he took the suitcase and placed it on a chair, hung up her coat and even removed her hat.

"Now," he said, "get a good night's sleep. You are quite safe, I assure you."

Mrs. Malone tried again to make sense. Trembling she sat on the bed; she felt weak and, somehow, defeated.

"Is it true, sir, what she says?"
"I have no choice," the Marchese said, "but to believe it is."

Miss Rose Diener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Diener of Versailles became the bride of Mr. Albert Wenger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Wenger of Versailles July 24 at 11:00 o'clock at the Mount Zion church. Rev. J. R. Shank officiated. Gladioli with honeysuckle and ferns decorated the church.

A quartet sang "Oh Father Lead Us" and "Oh, Perfect Love." The bride chose for her wedding a street length dress of white crepe and white accessories. She carried a white Bible. Her corsage was red.

Mrs. Norman Wenger was matron of honor. She chose a pink crepe dress. Her corsage was white.

Mr. Norman Wenger was the groomsmen. Ushers were Mr. Paul Nebel and Mr. Danaltee Benton, both of Versailles.

Mrs. Diener, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue dress with black accessories.

Mrs. Wenger, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gray dress. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at 12:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, where 75 guests were present. White gladioli decorated the home. There was a three tiered wedding cake. Hostesses were Esther Diener, aunt of the bride and Laura Diener, sister of the bride, both of Versailles.

Immediately after the reception the couple left for their honeymoon. They will return about the first of August. They plan to reside on a farm seven miles northeast of Versailles.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Eddelmeier and son Clayton of Kalison, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Detweiler, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bender, all of Iowa City, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sebrock, Mrs. Elane Sebrock and Misses Alice and Mary Sebrock, all of Garden City.

Mrs. E. H. McLaughlin of 1301 West Third street, will have a party of three at the St. Louis Municipal Opera performance of "Irene" Sunday evening.

A group of girls gave a picnic Tuesday evening at Spring Fork on honor of Miss Beverly Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peters, 1805 South Ohio avenue, who celebrated her 16th birthday anniversary.

Those attending were: Misses Loretta Burton, Cynthia Gorrell, Evelyn Romig, Marjorie Scruton, Doris Jean Steele, Verna Mae Williams and the honoree, Miss Beverly Peters. Miss Neva Eirls was invited but was unable to attend.

Mrs. Lawson Smith entertained with a miscellaneous shower on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Smith of Hughesville in honor of Mrs. Gerald Smith a recent bride, the former Miss Lucille Thomas of Sedalia.

The home was artistically decorated with gladioli and zinnias. The dining table was covered with a lace cloth with the centerpiece, a crystal bowl filled with yellow gladioli, flanked by three crystal candle holders with yellow candles.

In the living room a table was placed before the fireplace with a white paper umbrella, yellow motifs and streamers under which the gifts were placed.

Refreshments of ice cream, chocolate and caramel covered white cake was served to the seventy guests present. Among the out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas of near Sedalia, parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Thomas, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom, of Sedalia.

The children and grandchildren of the late George H. Reynolds enjoyed a picnic supper and family reunion at Liberty park Sunday, July 24th. Those present were Mrs. Cora Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baxter and sons Bobby and Buddy, Mr. and Mrs. Othil Griffith and children Joyce, Delaine, Carol and Richard, all of Smithton; Mrs. Gussie Dusenberry of Cincinnati, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baxter and sons Billy, Tommy and Jimmy of Hays, Kas., and Dr. and Mrs. William H. Reynolds and daughter Della Mae, of Sedalia.

Miss Mary Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Nichols, north of Ottoville, was married to Mr. Woodrow Webb of Kansas City Sunday afternoon, July 17th at 3:00 o'clock at the Trinity Methodist church in Kansas City.

Miss Nichols is a graduate of Ottoville high school and C. M. S. C. in Warrensburg. She is a teacher in Kansas City and has been employed in the Kansas City schools the past several years.

They will be at home in Kansas City where Mr. Webb has employment as head of the J. C. Penney store at decorative department. Mrs. T. F. Nichols and son Clyde and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nichols were present at the wedding. The father was unable to attend due to illness.

Moved To South Kentucky
Mr. and Mrs. Allen Goodridge have moved from 1001 West Third street, to 1411 1/2 South Kentucky avenue.

Quick Way To High Society

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, July 27 — (AP) — Want to crash high society? One of the quickest ways today is to buy a famous gem or collection of jewels.

Society then will let down its barriers and invite you in just to look at your pretty baubles through lifted lognettes.

As proof of this truism in their trade jewelers cite the late Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean, famous Washington hostess and owner of the Hope diamond.

"There is no doubt that any woman who owned that stone would be made socially in Washington," said Daniel F. Frey, executive director of the Harry Winston jewelry firm which purchased the fabulous gem from the McLean estate.

"When she gave parties, it was her entrance that created more attention than the arrival of noted diplomats, generals, or supreme court justices. In fact, many came to her parties only to see the diamond. She realized this, and loved to show it."

Frey said several wealthy persons had commissioned his firm to offer Mrs. McLean up to $1,000,000 for her gem, hoping they could thus duplicate her social success. But in her lifetime she wouldn't sell it.

Among the financial titans of the past who used jewelry to widen their fame or notoriety were "Diamond Jim" Brady and J. J. Hill, the "empire builder." "Hill carried a heart-shaped emerald in his pocket as a good-luck token," said Frey. "It was quite a token — worth $250,000. And his estate sold it at a profit after his death."

Some jewelers think that for good taste and quality the greatest American collector was Mrs. Elbert T. Gary, wife of the steel magnate.

"One of her finest pieces was a rope of 166 perfectly matched single carat gems," recalled Frey. It was a chastely simple string of glitter — only six feet long.

The Winston firm has fashioned 21 other diamonds from her collection into a stately elegant bracelet. It's available for $165,000.

The Hope diamond, valued variously from $250,000 to $2,000,000 in its ill-starred history, is currently off the market.

"We are sending it on a nationwide tour to raise funds for local charities," explained Frey. "It has such a reputation for bringing bad luck — perhaps now it will bring some good luck."

Some 500 jewelers have requested permission to display it. The Hope diamond's value comes not so much from its size — there are perhaps 20 other top quality stones that equal its 44 1/2-carat weight — as from its unique blue color.

The base of the diamond market is still the man of middle income who will pay up to $400 for a half-carat engagement ring. Recently there has been an influx of foreign buyers seeking the larger stones for investment purposes. They feel jewels will depreciate less than the uneasy currencies of their uneasy countries. Jewelers also are excited over the prospect of reviving gem-wearing among men.

"We rather let that market slip away from us," sighed Frey. "But it is coming back slowly."

Jeweled rings are particularly popular at present with Texas oil millionaires. And they're competitive about them. They compare the sizes of their diamond rings and the loser flies here and tells his jeweler: "Make me a bigger one. I'll

Ault Participates In 'Little Olympics'
OSLO, Norway, July 28—(P)—The powerful United States track and field squad figured to take the lead tonight in the second session of the three-day "Little Olympics."
The combined Scandinavia team held a 104½ to 78½ advantage after the first nine events, most of them Nordic specialties.
Heading tonight's program is the first half of the decathlon competition. Young Bob Mathias of Tulare, Calif., the American and Olympic champion, is heavily favored.

Chiefs Play Exhibition Game Tonight
Colored Team Of Fayette Will Offer Rugged Competition
The Sedalia Chiefs will tangle with the strong colored team of Fayette, Mo., under the lights at Liberty Park, tonight at 8:15 o'clock. This will be an exhibition contest, and will probably be the toughest game of the year for the Chiefs as they meet the older and more experienced squad.
The Fayette aggregation has lost only two games this season, and have among their victories a win over the Jefferson City Eagles, a powerful Negro team that participated in the State Semi-Pro tournament at Jefferson City recently.
The starting hurler for the Chiefs has not been announced, but "Big Jim" Egbert, Donald "Duck" Eschbacher, and Gene May will be available for mound duty. Either Whitworth or Barbour will be working behind the plate. The Chiefs regular line-up, now working very smoothly after a shuffling for better defense, will be in the field.
Eschbacher To Return
"Duck" Eschbacher, who has been out of action almost all season because of an arm injury, is now reported almost completely well and will be available for action tonight if necessary. Eschbacher has been working out the past few days, after close care of his arm, and will soon add even greater strength to the Chiefs' mound staff, which is very strong at present.
The Chiefs now are in second place in the Central Missouri Ban Johnson league, with five victories against one loss. Moberly, the only team that has beaten them, leads the league with a record of five wins and no defeats.
Play Saturday Night
Saturday night at 9:15 o'clock, the Chiefs will meet the highly touted Lapatina Ban Johnson team of Kansas City in another exhibition contest. Joe Imhauser, ace right-hander of the Chiefs, will be on the mound then.

J.C. Redbirds Defeated Patton Creamery Team
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 28—(P)—The Missouri Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament, down to six teams, will be cut to five in the only game scheduled for tonight.
Versailles will play Columbia Maytags in an elimination game at 8 p. m.
The Jefferson City Redbirds and Holcomb, only undefeated crews left, will meet in a semi-finals contest Friday. The eliminations are expected to be completed Sunday, with the finals scheduled for Friday, August 5.
The Redbirds gave Patton Creamery of Springfield its first defeat last night, 9-2, and Marshall eliminated California 5-3.

Athletics Win 6 To 4 Over Eagles
Walker Pitches A Three-Hitter And Gets 11 Strikeouts
The Sedalia Athletics took a 6 to 4 decision from the Jefferson City Eagles at Liberty park, Wednesday night, with Bus Walker pitching a three-hitter.
Walker fanned 11 batters in addition to setting the visitors down with three hits, and walked four men. McMackin started behind the plate, but became ill in the third inning and was relieved by Taylor who caught a good game the rest of the way.
Beismeyer Leads Hitters
The Athletics collected six hits off H. Thompson, Eagles hurler, and made the most of six errors in their scoring. Beismeyer led Sedalia with three hits for five trips to the plate. Thompson got nine strikeouts.
Sedalia scored one run in the first on a single by Beismeyer after Thompson had walked and went to second on a wild pitch. They picked up two more in the second after one out, after Wolf singled and Camper, Eagles center fielder, made two errors on McMackin and Walker to allow the tallies. In the third Beismeyer got a single, went to second on a wild pitch, to third on an error, and scored on a ground out.
Big Inning
The Eagles had their big inning in the eighth with two runs. With one out, Bagby got on by an error and went to second on a wild pitch. Logan and Carter walked, the next batter struck out, and then Kirkpatrick, pinch-hitting for Camper, singled home the two runs but was caught between first and second trying to make a double.
The score by innings:
Jeff City ... 000 101 020—4 3 6
Sedalia ... 121 011 000—6 6 5

Sedalia Blues Dropped Game To Mendon
Hurler For Mendon Held Local Team To Three Hits
The Sedalia Blues piled up their biggest losing score of the season when they were defeated 13-3 by Mendon, Wednesday night in a baseball game played at Bash Stadium in Mendon. The Blues suffered a 5-4 loss earlier in the season, when Sid Kennedy faced the aggregation on the mound.
Last night's pitcher for Mendon was just as good as Kennedy, when he held the Blues to three hits and struck out 14 Sedalia batters. The star hurler, Veach, formerly played with a Memphis Tenn. club, and had just returned to Mendon, after signing a contract with a St. Louis ball club.
The Mendon team has been playing heads up ball, and have piled 16 victories against three losses for the season. They have defeated teams such as, Jefferson City Eagles, Glasgow Legion, Carpenters Union of Kansas City, Fayette Eagles and the Brookfield Lions.

Cards Wind Up Philly Series Today
Leadership Will Be at Stake in Series With Dodgers
By The Associated Press
By way of another workmanlike warm-up for the big Brooklyn series in St. Louis this week-end the Cardinals took the second straight game from Philadelphia last night, 7 to 3, the same score by which Brooklyn defeated the Chicago Cubs yesterday.
The Redbirds wind up the Philly series this afternoon, with Al Brazle going against Ken Heintzelman, who has won 13 and lost 3 as compared with Brazle's 9-5 record. The Dodgers also have another go at Chicago.
Scalpers Demand $25 a Ticket
The Cards still have a lead of a game and a half. Regardless of the results this afternoon, the league leadership will be at stake in the series with Brooklyn. For those games, incidentally, it is reported that Scalpers are demanding $25 a ticket.
Against the Phils last night the Cardinals had considerable help from the Philly starting pitcher, Hank Borowy. He walked five men in the first two innings, and all of them scored.
Musial Delivered Big Punch
The big St. Louis punch again was delivered by Stan Musial, who drove in three runs with a double in the second. That one kayoed the wild Mr. Borowy, and Ken Trinkle took over.
George Munger went the route for the Cards, giving up 11 hits. He pitched out of several jams and had the help of four double plays, for his third straight victory and a season total of nine against four defeats.
Browns Lost Twin Bill
At Philadelphia the Browns lost two games, 7-3 and 8-6, to the same club from which they won a doubleheader in St. Louis last week.
The reason this time was that the Brownie pitchers couldn't hold the leads that were built up for them. In the first game the Browns were leading 3-1 until the fourth. In the second they piled up five runs in the first inning, but the A's had them tied by the fourth.

Brewers Beat Saints 4 to 2
By The Associated Press
There was gloom over Lexington Park last night as second place St. Paul continued its tailspin in the American Association. League leaders a week ago, the skidding Saints dropped a 4 to 2 decision for their sixth loss in their last seven home games.
Tonight's Schedule: Columbus at Toledo.
Indianapolis at Louisville.
Milwaukee at St. Paul.
Minneapolis at Kansas City.

National Junior Golf Meet Enters Into Second Round
WASHINGTON, July 28—(P)—A sizzling 65 set by Slammmin' Sammy Snead this spring is the target for today as the National Junior Golf championship enters the second round.

Runs Scored
Two runs were scored by Mendon in the first inning on a hit batsman, single, and a fielders choice. The team added two runs in the second on a single, walk and a single. Another run was scored in the third on a hit, sacrifice and a hit. A run was scored in the fifth on a hit, stolen base and an error.
The Blues made the score read 6-2 in the eighth inning on walks to Slocum and Sullivan, and an error on Barr's long fly to deep center.
Mendon's big inning, came in the last half of the eighth, when the team rallied for seven runs to ice the game.
The Blues scored their third run in the ninth inning on a single by Alpert, hit batsman and an error.

Batteries
Veach and Parris formed the Mendon battery, while Rapp started for Sedalia and was relieved in the eighth inning by Turckey, with Weller going all the way behind the plate.
The Sedalia Blues will hold practice, Friday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, at Housel park to get in shape for a home game Sunday afternoon with Raymore team.
Score by innings:
Sedalia ... 000 000 021—3-3-3
Mendon ... 221 010 07x—13-13-4

Merchants Beat Windsor 15 to 5
The Sedalia Merchants pounded out 13 hits to defeat Windsor by a score of 15 to 5 in a softball game there last night.
After getting off to a shaky start the Merchants settled down to play a good ball game behind the 7-hit pitching of McNeal.
Windsor scored all their runs in the first two innings, with a home run by I. Adair in the first with the bases loaded and the other run in the second.
Swisher and Tucker hit home runs for Sedalia, while McNeal and Tuggle tied for the hitting honors, getting three for four.
Friday night the Merchants will journey to Sweet Springs for a Central Missouri softball league

Coronation Service of Baptist Youth

Held Tuesday Night With a Special Program

The annual Coronation and Recognition Service of the youth organization of the Harmony Baptist Association, sponsored by the Woman's Missionary Union, was held Tuesday night at 7.30 o'clock at the First Baptist church. Mrs. E. Leonard Hall, Association Young People's leader, was in charge.

The two groups recognized were the Royal Ambassadors, the boys' organization, and the Girls' Auxiliary, the girls' organization. The girls and boys go step by step receiving recognition for the work they have accomplished each year.

Two girls, Charlene Lauderberger and Mary Jo Case, reached the top step which gives them the honor of being queens and they were crowned at the ceremony and presented with white Bibles from the Association by Mrs. Bradley, Association president.

The devotional thought was by Mrs. W. P. Arnold, divisional chairman.

Mrs. B. B. Bradley, Association president, had charge of the W. M. U. business session, at which time Associational officers were elected for the coming year.

Girls' Auxiliary Allegiance

Following the organ prelude by Mrs. Clyde Williams, candles were lighted by Betty Lea Newland and Shirley Thomas.

The Royal Ambassador Allegiance and the Girls' Auxiliary Allegiance was followed by music.

The maidens, the first step in the girls' organization, were Sue McNealy, Ruth Ann Wareham, Sandra Houston, Gail Williams, Marjorie Pierce, Marian Bradley, Florence Mabry, Louella Griffith, Shirley Cooper, Shirley Kronk, Judith Curran, Linda Bradley, Carolyn Houston and Betty Williams. Ladies-in-waiting were Betty Mombert, Judy Mombert, Judith Case and Patsy Bradley. Princesses were Ilene Moon, Elaine Bail, Anita Miller, Bernice Bacon.

Miss Rose Marie Reed played a violin solo.

Following the coronation Fred Arbogast, Associational Brotherhood president, offered a prayer.

Benediction was by Dr. Thomas W. Croxton, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Boys and girls participating were from the Calvary Baptist

Jury Acquits A Girl Of Murder

WAUKEGON, Ill., July 28—(AP)—A jury Wednesday night acquitted 17-year-old Joyce Schumaker of a charge of murdering her 53-year-old married lover.

After the verdict was announced the thin, nervous high school girl exclaimed:

"I feel wonderful. It is a wonderful surprise. I have never stopped praying in four months."

Earlier, Joyce had testified she fatally shot Carl Reeder, 53, a clerk in the high school she attended, but she insisted the shooting was accidental.

She told the court she had been intimate with Reeder before she knew he was married but not afterward.

Britons Wait For Free Spectacles

LONDON, July 28—(AP)—Three million Britons are waiting for free spectacles under Britain's socialized medicine. Many will have to wait seven to eight months.

The news letter of the Association of optical practitioners, gave the figures today.

There was a run on spectacles when Britain's health program started a year ago.

Ministry of Health spokesmen said thousands who needed glasses postponed getting them until they could get them free from the state.

Maj Gen. Edward Mann Lewis World War I Commander Dies

OAKLAND, Calif., July 28—(AP)—Major General Edward Mann Lewis died Wednesday in Oakland veterans' hospital at the age of 81.

In World War I he commanded the third brigade of the second division on the Verdun front and throughout the Chateau-Thierry offensive. Afterward he commanded the 30th division until returning home in 1919. He retired from Army service in 1927.

church, the East Sedalia Baptist church and the First Baptist church.

After the program refreshments were served in the basement to more than one hundred guests.

Mrs. E. C. Martin, chairman was in charge of the serving.

The leader's helpers were James Sands, Jess E. Tuggle, Miss Bebecca Arnold and Laura Mae Fairfax. Ushers were Miss Velma Thomas, Miss Dorothy Towner, M. Fred Lyon, Robert Van Horn, Miss Dorothy Williams and Miss Betty Bradley.

The song leader was Miss Eugenia Arnold.

From Java, Finds America Wonderful And Will Stay

"America is a wonderful country, but I'm afraid of so many cars and tall buildings," said H. H. Trebels, of Java, East Indies, speaking very good English for a man who is just learning the language. Mr. Trebels arrived in New York on June 28, coming by the way of Holland on the New Amsterdam, and learned most of the English on the way over. He speaks several languages.

Coming to the United States to make his home with his son, Rudy Trebels, of Chicago, and Rudy's wife, the former Jana Ray Lee, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Lee, 414 Wilkerson, he shows his delight in his new country by his happy smile.

Shown About Sedalia

He is seeing a bit of the mid-west, too, for the son is losing no time in showing his Sedalia, where Jana Ray lived from a tiny baby until she was seven years old, and where her parents returned the past year to make their home, after living for a number of years in Kansas City.

He wants to show him, too, where he was stationed in Leavenworth, Kas., with other Dutch boys training for military service. That was how he met Jana Ray and in August 1943 married her in Kansas City. They left Wednesday afternoon for Kansas City after spending since Friday with Dr. Lee.

Had Mr. Trebels been willing to display the Swastika of Germany, which was his country, he could have escaped the concentration camp, but his brother was born in Java and his son was fighting in the Dutch army, and he could not go against his people.

Living only on a small bowl of rice a day and a little hard bread made of starch he became very thin and ill. His body became filled with his water and his skin died. If they didn't show pep they were hit by guards. They ate snakes, snails and even rats in order to get food. When they were released from the camps Mr. Trebels was 90 per cent dead and had been thrown on a pile of corpses when his family arrived.

Rudy, his only son, was with the Dutch Air Forces at that time in Australia, and flew there after his father, although the persons in charge told him there was no use. He flew him back to Australia, where he received good medical attention and today Mr. Trebels is in good health. He lost all his teeth, but is proud of the set, Dr. Lee, who is a dentist, had just made for him.

Mrs. Trebels died two years ago and since that time Mr. Trebels has been trying to get his birth certificate to come to the United States. Finally the birth certificate was obtained and all other arrangements made.

Proud of Citizenship

Rudy and Jana Ray, who had gone to Australia after their marriage and had lived in Java, returned in 1947 to the United States of which Rudy proudly claims he is now a citizen.

Mr. Trebels, who lost his 24 room house, his jewelry store and his money in the car, is glad to get to America, and feels that he is almost an American because Rudy initiated him with a rocket ride at Coney Island. He doesn't want another ride, he said.

He can not receive his pension from the Dutch government of his money because they will not want to pay in money.

Now Mr. Trebels wants only one thing more. That is for his two daughters, one who is married and has a child, in Holland, and the other in Batavia, Java, to come to America. The third daughter already is in the United States and resides in Chicago.

Mr. Trebels, upon his return to Chicago, after his trip to Missouri, to open up his jewelry shop there.

Court Rules In Favor Of The AP

MUSKOGEE, Okla., July 28—(AP)—Federal Judge Eugene Rice has ruled in favor of the Associated Press, complainant in a $3,593 breach of contract suit against the Valley Publishing Co., of Pauls Valley, Okla., i was disclosed on Wednesday.

The publishing firm, which prints and distributes the Pauls Valley Daily Democrat, contracted for the news service April 1, 1947.

Judge Rice held that owner James T. Jackson attempted to resign from the service without regard to a contract clause requiring two-year notice of discontinuance.

Jackson then declined to honor drafts for AP service in the weeks of July 12 and July 19, 1947, records show. The AP subsequently suspended service and removed its teletypes.

Slam Door On Quick Action For DP Bill

No Urgent Need For Displaced Persons Bill Before May

WASHINGTON, July 28—(AP)—Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) Wednesday slammed the door on quick action to admit greater numbers of displaced persons into the United States.

He told reporters the Senate judiciary committee must work out legislation which "won't destroy the economy of this country" by opening "the floodgates" of immigration. McCarran is chairman of the committee.

Enter 205,000 Under Law

There is no urgent need for a new displaced persons bill before next May, when the United States will have admitted 205,000 persons under the present DP law, he said.

The judiciary committee is holding hearings on proposals to revise the present law which many organizations charge is discriminating against racial and religious groups in Europe.

McCarran said any new legislation must take into consideration the unemployment and housing shortage in the United States.

"We've got about 3,500,000 unemployed workers now," he said. "Some say this may run up to 8,000,000 in the next year. We can't ignore that situation in letting immigrants into the country."

Russians Will Be Eligible

President Truman, meanwhile signed a proclamation fixing annual immigration quotas for several countries. Under this, a few more Russians will be eligible each year to enter the United States.

The new quotas and those of the past year:

Russia, 2,798 and 2,712; Greece, 310 and 307; Romania, 291 and 377.

Mr. Truman also set quotas of 100 each for four countries which did not have separate allowances last year. These are Israel, Hashemite Jordan (formerly Trans-Jordan), Lebanon and Syria.

All the new quotas are for the fiscal year that began July 1 and for each fiscal year thereafter.

Orlen O. Schupp in Visit to Alaska

Orlen O. Schupp, yeoman, third class, USN, son of Mrs. Erna Schupp, of route 1, Stover, Mo., recently visited Sitka, Alaska, aboard the sea-going tug USS Tillamook.

During this visit, crew members of the Tillamook were afforded the opportunity to visit such his-

Mrs. Add Johnson

Irwin Ellison, who has been superintendent of the high school at Avalon, spent the past week at Columbia on behalf of his school. En route to his home in Avalon Friday, he stopped off at Clifton City and visited with friends, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Smith.

Marva Bridges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Bridges, lost a portion of the index finger on her left hand Saturday. Marva was in the field with her father and in helping to connect a baler with a tractor, her finger was caught and a small portion crushed, necessitating amputation at the first joint. She is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Cox went to Wichita, Kas., Thursday and visited with their son, Junior Cox, and family until Sunday morning. They were accompanied home by the youngest daughter, Linda Lou, who is visiting here.

The annual chicken supper and picnic, given by members of the Catholic church here Sunday evening, was largely attended.

Serving began at 5:30 o'clock and people from all the surrounding towns, Boonville, Pilot Grove, Sedalia, Ottumwa, Smithton, Marshall, Pleasant Green and other towns attended and the picnic was considered a great success.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Higdon, Mrs. Daisy Higdon and Mrs. Add Johnson motored to Sedalia Saturday afternoon and visited a short while with Mrs. Floyd Potter, who has recently returned from Research hospital in Kansas City. Mrs. Potter is showing some improvement and is now able to be up and around in the home for some time each day.

Mrs. J. J. Potter entertained members of the Women's Society of Christian Service in her home last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. J. G. Harlan had charge of the program. Mrs. Potter, the president, presided over the business meeting. At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Moody and son Bill, of Dayton City, Ill., spent Saturday night here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Add Johnson and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Cox Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Neale had as their guests at dinner Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Maddox, of Beaman, and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Long.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyers and son Oscar, formerly of Clifton City, who now reside at California, Mo., visited here with John Pabst, who is ill and attended the Catholic picnic here Sunday evening. Other guests who visited Mr. Pabst Sunday were a son, Fred Pabst, and wife, of Boonville, and a daughter, Mrs. Ollie Zellers, of Slater, and their son Kenneth, of Kansas City, who the great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson, the great grandmother, Mrs. Susie Todd, and an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. "Bud" McKenzie and sons Gene and Bill, all of this community, Mr. Zola Bradbury, Mrs. Elizabeth Croxton and Roy Brown, of Sedalia.

C. A. Higdon left Sunday for St. Joseph, where he has employment on the construction of road building.

Mrs. Daisy Higdon, of Clifton City, accompanied her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hurt to Kansas City Sunday evening, where she visited a cousin, Mrs. Tyde Fowler until Monday evening.

Miss Mary Bidstrup and her friend, Miss Wilma Woods, of Jefferson City, spent the week-end here with Miss Mary's brother, Charlie Bidstrup.

Mrs. William Todd will be hostess to the Clifton City Home Extension club in an all day meeting at her home next Wednesday, August 3. The program will be on

Family Night at Immanuel Church

Family night will be observed at the Immanuel Evangelical and Reformed church, Fourth street and Vermont avenue, Friday night.

A contributed supper will be served at 6:30 by members of the Women's guild. A program consisting of games, skits and singing will be in charge of the Builders Class and will begin at 8:00 o'clock.

health, with Mrs. Add Johnson in charge of the program.

Quite a few from this community attended the funeral services held for Teddy Joe Ellis, at the Gillespie funeral home in Sedalia, Saturday, July 23rd, at 2:00 o'clock. Among them were his grandfather, Harve Ellis, an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnston, and family, a cousin, Mrs. B. H. Potter, and Mr. Potter.

Recruit Sanders To Victory Division

Recruit James R. Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Sanders of Ottumwa, Mo., has been assigned to the fifth armored "Victory" division for eight weeks of basic training.

Reactivated July 6, 1948, the fifth armored "Victory" division hung up a brilliant war record in six European campaigns during World War II. Before the end of 1949 Camp Chaffee is expected to have 20,000 troops, making it the largest army training center in the nation.

Before entering the army, Recruit Sanders was a student at Harmony school.

He is now assigned to Co. "B," 45th Armored Infantry Bn.

It's "Buick weather" -and are you ready?

WHERE DOES LUBRICARE STOP?

In one of our exacting Lubricare treatments, you pay only what a routine "grease job" would cost elsewhere — but when your Buick comes purring back home you discover we've eased up the trunk latches, puffed a little puff of graphite powder into your door locks, checked your brake fluid.

We've even oiled the windshield wiper mechanisms — and that's only a good beginning. While we lubricate we also inspect, from bumper to bumper — catching your little troubles before they grow to big ones.

Buick care keeps Buicks best

E. W. THOMPSON MOTOR COMPANY

400 South Osage Sedalia, Missouri Telephone 590

This time of year your garage doors open onto a wonderful world of fun, wide and fresh again—waiting for you and your Buick!

Great highways where you breeze along — shaded narrow roads leading you back to the hills, or to a piece of water you want to see again — you'll take them equally in your stride if your Buick's in top-flight shape.

How about letting us put it in that shape for you?

Get one of our conscientious motor tune-ups, and one of our thoroughgoing Lubricare treatments. We'll put the bounce back in your motor — while we're taking the bounce out of your ride.

We do this well because we're Buick men. We know your Buick, we've studied correct factory methods for each operation, we know the factory specifications your car was built to. We use genuine Buick parts — even special Buick tools!

Yet you don't pay a penny more for all these extras. Stop in this week, won't you?

Most of Polio In Nine States

With 6,935 Cases Reported 337 Had Resulted Fatally

By the Associated Press
Infantile paralysis cases in 1949 are running far ahead of 1944—the second worst polio year in U. S. history.

An Associated Press survey today showed 6,935 cases over the nation through July 27, with 337 polio deaths.

In 1944 the total for the same date was 4,176. Totals for 1944 eventually reached 19,029, topped only by 27,363 in 1916.

The U. S. Public Health Service in Washington reported the 6,339 cases as of July 23 this year was 38.4 per cent higher than the 4,580 reported through the same date in 1948—and 1948 was a near-record year.

The polio appeared to be gaining strength with the hot weather. Government figures showed 1,444 new cases during the week ending July 23. This was an increase of 47.5 per cent over the same week of 1948, which had 979. In 1944, there were 915 new cases for the week ending July 27.

For the most part the polio upsurge appeared to be fairly evenly distributed over the nation. Only scattered epidemic areas were reported.

Decline in Eight States
At least 33 states reported a step-up in the polio rate, while eight showed a decline.

Nineteen states have had more than 100 cases this year compared with only seven states above the 100 mark at the same time last year.

Nearly two-thirds of the nation's polio was centered in nine states. The leaders were Texas, 1,123; California, 708; Arkansas, 488; Oklahoma, 440; New York, 353; Missouri, 302; Minnesota, 286; Michigan, 270, and Illinois, 259.

Oklahoma health authorities said more than half of the state's 440 cases already have recovered. They said they had enough equipment to take care of patients, but not enough trained personnel.

New York City, which has had 14 polio deaths since July 1, issued an emergency call for nurses.

The Red Cross said Arkansas was one of the hardest hit states in the nation. Most of the victims were stricken during May, June and July.

Iowa authorities reported 124 polio cases so far this year as against 118 at the same time in 1948—the state's record year.

Texas health directors said the state "has had more polio this year than ever before in its history." There were 67 polio deaths during the first six months of this year.

At Springfield, Ill., all children under 16 were quarantined and the public swimming pool was closed for the rest of the season, after 17 polio cases and two deaths struck the city this month.

State Totals
The state by state totals as of July 27 include:

	Cases	Cases	Deaths
	1949	1948	1949
Arkansas	488	51	3
Kansas	135	45	7
Missouri	302	37	11
Oklahoma	440	84	34

The Plea Of A Stricken Lad Is Fulfilled

Truck Load Of Mail Sent To Child Who Suffers With Cancer

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 8—(AP)—A Hazel-eyed four-year old who doctors say hasn't long to live was having his big wish fulfilled Wednesday.

He was getting lots of mail, as a sympathetic nation responded to his plea.

Four months ago little Bobby Byers began to feel tired. More and more he would say, "Mommie, I hurt."

He Lost His Joy
Later doctors found that Bobby had cancer. He lost his joy in toys and playthings. He couldn't run with other children.

From his bed Bobby would ask his mother each day if the mailman had left anything for him. He found joy in opening those get-well cards and having his mother read them to him.

At first mail came from friends and neighbors.

Two days ago Bobby's story was told to the world. Yesterday he received 200 cards and letters. Today more than 3,000 pieces of mail were delivered to Bobby's home at 537 West Missouri avenue here.

More continues to pile up at the branch postoffice. Wayne Elliott, assistant superintendent, said a special truck probably will be needed.

Has Several Helpers

On hand to help Bobby open letters and packages were his mother, Mrs. H. J. Byers, his brother, Jack, 12, and his sisters Joan, 15, and Judy, 10.

Even the postman, Arthur Hammon, stopped for a few extra minutes.

Bobby now is an honorary deputy sheriff and also has been invited to be a special guest at Williams Air Force Base. Col.

THE ICEMAN COMETH TO THE RESCUE—Ralph Bailey of a Ludlow, Mass., ice company makes a stop at an artificial pond each day and delivers a half ton of ice to the fish. So far, according to Al Fuller, who built the pond, the stunt has saved many fish from death in the tepid water. Young bathers on hand don't seem to object to lowering the temperature of the water either.

Robert L. Scott, base commander, included pictures of jet planes in his letter to the boy.

Each evening Bobby's father takes him for strolls in a buggy. The boy's legs won't support him. Often the whole family goes along. They still hope the doctors are wrong.

Create 27 New Federal Circuits

WASHINGTON, July 28—(AP)—The Senate completed congressional action Wednesday upon legislation to create 27 additional federal circuit and district judges. Action was by voice vote adopting a conference agreement that was approved by the House yesterday.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) delayed final approval briefly by protesting elimination of a Senate provision that would have barred appointment of attorneys from government agencies to the new federal judgeships.

He said appointment of former government attorneys resulted in trying to get political rather than judicial talent.

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) of the Senate judiciary committee said he agreed with Ferguson but House members would not agree.

The bill would create a new circuit judgeship in the tenth district, which includes Kansas and Oklahoma.

Also, among the 21 new district

Warsaw Wreck Injures Five

judgeships to be established would be one for Kansas.

The bill would make permanent one temporary judgeship each in the eastern and western districts of Missouri, and the western district of Oklahoma.

Marshall, was the driver of a 1949 club coupe, and headed north on the highway and Carl Geier, 28, Ingokern, Calif., was the driver of the 1949 Chevrolet sedan, the other car involved in the accident, which was headed south.

According to the State Patrol Geier started to pass a truck and in doing so his car and the car driven by Tolivar collided. About $350 damages resulted to the Geier car and $500 damages to Tolivar's car.

Riding with Tolivar were his wife, Mrs. Claudine Tolivar, 18, and Sidney Garner, 12, 510 South

Grant avenue, Marshall. All three received lacerations and bruises about their heads, but their injuries were not considered serious.

The three were taken to the Bothwell hospital where Dr. John Carlisle rendered emergency treatment and they continued on to Marshall and entered the Fitzgibbon hospital, where they are being treated by Dr. Veach.

Geier, received lacerations on his forehead, and Bennie Reeder, 43, Bakersfield, Calif., a passenger in Geier's car, received a cut on his head. Mrs. Geier was not injured.

The group in Geier's car was visiting relatives at Warsaw.

The driver of the truck was identified as Claude Murray of Springfield, Mo.

Besides the State Patrol, Sheriff Harrison Eaton, of Benton county investigated the accident.

Tests made by America's largest cigarette research laboratory scientifically help Lucky Strike buyers select the fine tobacco that goes into Luckies!

YOU SEE HERE the largest and most complete laboratory of its kind operated by any cigarette manufacturer in America.

For many years Lucky Strike scientists have delved into cigarette research on an extensive scale. Out of this has grown an elaborate system of quality control. Every step in the making of Luckies—from before the tobacco is bought until the finished cigarette reaches you—comes under the laboratory's watchful eye.

As you read this, a constant stream of tobacco samples from every tobacco-growing area is flowing into the laboratory in Richmond, Virginia. These samples are scientifically analyzed, and reports of their quality go to the men who buy at auction for the makers of Lucky Strike.

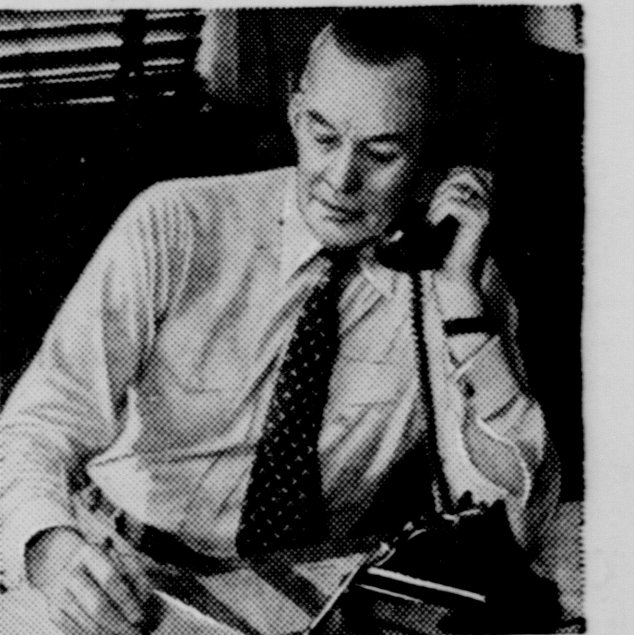

Armed with this confidential, scientific information—and their own sound judgment—these men go after finer, lighter, milder tobacco. This fine tobacco—together with scientifically controlled manufacturing methods—is your assurance that there is no finer cigarette in the world today than Lucky Strike!

This man knows where fine tobacco grows. Here is one of Lucky Strike's tobacco-buying supervisors gathering sample leaves from a curing barn. Such samples are obtained from every tobacco-growing area and sent to the laboratory for pre-market analysis. No wonder—L. S. M. F. T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco!

This scientist knows how to test tobacco. In our Tobacco Control Division, samples sent to the laboratory are subjected to scores of analyses to determine smoking quality. This vital testing, both before and after tobacco is purchased, has been conducted for years... still another guarantee that Lucky Strike means fine tobacco.

Reports received. The laboratory sends results of the analyses to the buying supervisors. This information helps the buyer go after finer, lighter, milder tobacco for Lucky Strike. Thus the judgment of the buyer at tobacco auctions is combined with modern science at the laboratory to assure you that Luckies are a finer, milder cigarette.

Wingless Chickens Are Hits In The Laboratories, But In The Past, They Have Been Flops in the Pot

By NEA Service

OMAHA, Nebraska — Wingless chickens are stirring up a lot of excitement these days, following the announcement of their breeding by a Des Moines, Iowa, veterinarian, but around here wingless chickens get the bird.

First, there's nothing new about them. As far back as 1924, people were successfully developing a wingless strain. In the second place, they turned out to be less meaty than the normal be-winged variety.

Records show that in 1924 W. L. Frank of Sherman, Texas, developed a wingless chicken. He called it a Kiwi, after a wingless New Zealand bird. He even started a Kiwi club of America, but not much came of it.

Just 20 years ago, in July, 1929, NEA Service carried a story about Dr. H. T. Renwald, an Omaha veterinarian. His interest in wingless chickens was entirely scientific, although he did prophesy that "within five years" wingless poultry would be as common as the normal strain. Further, he said the wingless ones laid more eggs and, consequently he foresaw the price of eggs falling to around 10 cents a dozen.

His theory that the wingless hens would be eggier was based on the knowledge that ordinary hens have an idle period of about 15 weeks when their wing feathers moult. No wings, no wing feathers, no moulting, no idle period, he figured.

His wingless hens did lay up to 315 eggs a year, which is better than normal. But after the experiment, he turned his breeding records and notes over to a graduate genetics student who wanted the information for a master's thesis.

In 1934, a wingless rooster was born as a freak of nature in Rose Hill, Ky. Scientists of Princeton university got hold of the bird and watched it develop. They concluded, after X-rays and psychological tests, that it was a pleasant creature, but would be useless in the pot.

The breast muscles of birds, which are the largest source of white meat, are their wing pullers. Since "Wingless," as the erudite Princetonians called the Purely for Eating are these wingless chickens — a rooster and hen—developed by Peter Baum of Des Moines. He claims the wingless birds will make better eating, but some people contradict him.

freak, had no wings he needed no wing muscles. Hence, "Wingless" was also breastless. All he had to offer for dinner were drumsticks, back and neck.

The current wingless breeder, veterinary Peter Baum of Des Moines, claims the grounded Purely Scientific interest in wingless chickens was that of Dr. R. T. Renwald. He developed wingless strain, like this one he holds in 1932, then turned his notes over to a student.

chickens would develop tremendous, luscious drumsticks, since they do so much walking.

Not so, answers Frank E. Muschel, chairman of the poultry department of the University of Nebraska.

"Take away the wings and soon you will be getting wingless

the chicken is liable to become thin and lean. He, like the Princeton poultry profs, knows that the wing muscles are what make the breasts so thick and tender.

Of course all the pro and con clucking about white meat and drumsticks ignores one large segment of Americans — those who like wings.

As for Dr. Renwald, he's as mildly amazed at the new excitement as he was over all the publicity he got back in 1929. And he's still eating chickens with wings.

Pfc. Chancellor Back From Korea

Pfc. James M. Chancellor, who recently returned to the states after an 18 month tour of duty with the occupational forces in South Korea, is spending a 30 day furlough with his mother and family of 1705 South Osage avenue. He had as his weekend guest Pfc. John Simpson, whose home is in Cairo, Ill. The boys met and became close friends while both were stationed in Seoul, Korea, with the military government.

Will Close Huge Plant to Retire

FRANKFORD, Del., July 27.—(AP)—A poultry packing plant, said to be the largest in the world, and employing 650 in this town of 800 persons, will close Saturday. Owners of the Eagle Poultry Packers, Inc., plant, which processes almost 1,000,000 pounds of dressed poultry and has a payroll of about $20,000 weekly, said to day they are closing down the business because they wish to retire.

John S. Isaacs, Rehoboth Beach, Del., one of the owners, said closing of the plant will have a serious economic effect upon this town and upon chicken raisers in the whole Delmarva peninsula. "But we must think first of our interests and we want to liquidate our assets," he added.

Alicia Hart's Stitch in Time--

Sews up Glamor on Played-out Summer Duds

Last summer's played-out play duds can be put back in the running by simple re-vamping tricks. This girl's beach shirt owes its pick-me-up to a man's red cotton faille necktie and to a new collar cut out of a matching tie. Her skimpy play dress (upper right) was lengthened and frilled at neckline and hemline (right) with eyellet ruffles.

By Alicia Hart
NEA Staff Writer

Give last season's play clothes a chance to be saved from discard before you toss them out of your closet.

Use eyellet ruffles to lengthen and glamorize skirts, to put pretty new frou frou around old neck lines. A deep eyellet embroidered petticoat flounce added to a shrunken hemline will add four inches of length and glamor to a cotton print. Stitch narrower matching eyellet to the bare-topped or off-shoulder bodice that teams with the skirt. If the bodice is self-ruffled, put the lacy one underneath to glam it up.

The neatest conversion trick of the year is to turn two colorful neckties, filched from husband or dad, and use to brighten the outlook of an old beach shirt or coat. Select two cravats from the tie rack that match or mix well. One will go to make a new beach-shirt collar or a cover for the one you have as well as matching cuffs. The other one will serve the same function as a manly tie knotted under your collar or worn loose with ends flying.

"Too short" shorts take on a new Tyrolean look (and go longer) when a row of wide primary colored peasant embroidery is used to outline the bottom and make gay suspenders. For the latter, the embroidered edging need only be run over the shoulders from the waistline, buttoned front and back and then held taut by a crossbar of edging stitched from suspender to suspender across the chest.

Pure nickle is so malleable that it can be fabricated into tubing finer than the stinger of a mosquito.

Wants Divorce From Her Cave Man Lover

LOS ANGELES, July 28—(P)—Two weeks of marriage to a cave man lover left her a physical wreck, Mrs. Mary Galindo, 47, complained in superior court on Wednesday.

In winning an annulment from Bernard M. Galindo, 47-year-old welder, she testified that when he made love to her he bit her lips so hard she had to call police. At other times he crushed her so amorously he crushed her ribs, she said.

Mrs. Galindo said they were married last May 25 and that she separated from him two weeks later.

An iron blade, perhaps 5,000 years old, was found in an Egyptian pyramid.

Transportation Safer Than Previous Years

CHICAGO, July 27—(P)—U. S. transportation was safer last year than at any time during the last ten years, the National Safety Council says.

The combined death rate for passenger automobiles, taxis, buses, trains and air liners was 1.8 deaths per 100,000,000 (M) passenger miles. A passenger mile represents one passenger carried one mile.

Comparative records have been kept only during the last decade.

The railroads had the lowest death rate—.013 per 100,000,000 (M) passenger miles. Buses were second with a rate of 0.18. The airplane rate was 1.3, and that for passenger automobiles and taxis 2.1.

Ballerina Toppers Wrap Fall Finery

By Epsie Kinard
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK — Sauciest little coat of the new season is the ballerina topper.

Swinging into autumn with unrestrained fullness this coat of Monte Sano's design is cut as short as a dancer's skirt. It makes up in width what it lacks in length and in frou frou what it lacks in the more solid virtues of a winter wrap.

Brilliantly colored plaid taffeta—red, green and yellow—lends its crisp charms to one long-waisted jacket which sports a peplum as part as a ballerina's skirt. This ruffly flounce can be flipped out, tilted up or down or crushed into folds. It owes its antics to a pliable stiffness that is woven into taffeta.

Another ballerina topper which spreads across shoulders like butterfly wings is a flame-colored cape of suede velvet. This cape-coat has the fullness of a dancer's skirt and is quilt stitched in deep bands to strengthen its flip appeal; and again to enforce the flair of full, trumpet shaped sleeves.

Complexion Insurance For Teen-Age Charmers

Beauty Honors — Mom's charm demonstration includes a cleanliness campaign. Daughter puts her first dot of powder on with fresh cotton balls which can be discarded.

By Betty Clarke
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Almost every young girl takes a fling at makeup with or without her parents' permission, just as an experiment. Perhaps she'll use a dab of powder or a bit of lipstick when spending the evening at home, all the while admiring her own reflection in the mirror.

The first step in Mom's guiding program should be to provide grooming aids. A hair brush, comb and complexion brush all are necessary to teen-age grooming. Some mothers select powder and lipstick for daughter and start her out on a "just for parties" makeup. This will satisfy her curiosity and build up her confidence in Mom's suggestions as to tasteful makeup.

One big hurdle for some adolescents to get over is blemished skin. Often they will be misled into believing that heavy cake makeups and foundations will cover over rough blotches and pimples making them unnoticeable. Actually, this will spread the infection.

Youngsters should be taught that cleanliness takes complexion honors and that good soap and water cleansing are necessary for a peaches-and-cream complexion. If a little dab of powder is to be used on chin and nose, to perk up the morale of the teenager with a bad complexion, then be sure that she carries a small envelope of cotton balls in her purse so that she can use a fresh one for each make-up change. Badly soiled powder puffs are no beauty bonus for any complexion.

When daughter uses her party lipstick, she can remove it by dipping the cotton in baby oil to remove every trace of makeup.

Primitive manufacture of iron from ore is believed to have begun in some nations well before 1300 B. C.

In primitive blast furnaces, hand-operated bellows of skin inside cylinders supplied air to a mixture of iron ore and charcoal in a fire.

Animated Ballroom Silhouettes Float And Flutter Into Fashion

By Espie Kinard
 NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK — If it has a panel that floats, flies or flutters or looks even mildly restless, it's the fall dress with a 1950 style stamp on its silhouette.

If panels don't flutter from day time woollens, after-five crepes and fancy formals, panels, panniers, spiral folds, aprons and other restless drapery animate their slim silhouettes.

One of the most spectacular examples is seen in the overskirt of a blue silk taffeta ballroom gown, which designer Hattie Carnegie also offers to the autumn bride in traditional white. Eleven yards of taffeta and as many of silk satin of lighter blue to line it go into the overskirt that floats from the back of a slim-skirted, snug-bodice dress with an off shoulder neckline.

As animated a device to give a formal gown its new look of movement is used by Eisenberg. A swag of side drapery which is caught into a huge pouff at the hip is freed at that point to swing and sway. This drapery animates the slim silhouette of a dress of rose-colored slipper satin which sparkles with "snowflake" embroidery of crystal bugle beads splashed over a strapless cuffed bodice.

Watches Keep Time With Fashion

By Espie Kinard
 NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK — Now, women will have to find better alibis for being late than the undependable watch.

To make their watches dependable, no matter how small and frivolous looking they are or how absent minded women are about winding, is the idea behind revolutionary designs.

There's a lady's automatic, for example — small, smart, thin, unbreakable and handsomely encased in steel or gold which takes care of the problem of forgetting to wind or of turning acrobat in order to wind. This watch's self-winder is mounted on ball bearings with five microscopic steel balls. Such a mounting allows the weight to wind the main-spring at every rotation, both clockwise and counter clockwise, and keeps the hands, including a sweep second hand, ticking time.

Another time-keeper designed to make old-hat that alibi "Sorry I'm late, guess my watch is slow," features the curved mechanism; curved case, curved movement. These two aids to accurate time-keeping curve together to conform to the shape of the wrist; to fill the case to the maximum with movement. Such practical features in new curvex watches hide behind a facade of glamor; exquisite white or yellow gold cases with silk cord wristbands. Some watches are diamond studded with as many as 22 sparklers set in fashionable cases.

Concordia Family Injured In Japan

TOKYO, Thursday, July 28—(AP)—Army hospital reports today said Lt. Col. Martin F. Tieman, his wife and 9-year-old daughter Murielle are recovering from a week-end traffic accident at Karuizawa, Japanese mountain resort. Two Japanese were killed when their machine and the Tieman car, with seven passengers, collided. The Tiemans, from Concordia, Mo., and two missionaries, Earl Tygart, Yakima, Wash., and Morris Jacobson, Camrose, Alberta, Canada, were flown to a hospital in Tokyo. Tygart's son Stephen, 3, and daughter, Faith, 6, were injured slightly. Tieman, chief of the repairs and utilities section, headquarters and service group in Tokyo, has been discharged from the hospital. Murielle will be released in several days. Mrs. Tieman, injured more seriously, will be in hospital some time.

As of January, 1949, the American steel industry had an annual capacity of 96,000,000 tons of steel ingots and castings.

End Shirtfront Pleats at Hip For Gibson Waistline

By Alicia Hart
NEA Staff Writer

How to have your pleated shirt front and your tiny waist too may mean ripping out a pleated shirt tail and remaking it into a fitted hip-band.

If other women who want to look like a Gibson Girl in pleated shirts and slim skirts take this trouble, why can't you?

If you make your own blouses, you can eliminate a bulky shirt tail when you cut and sew. Simply halt those rows of crisp pleats at the waistline and add a smoothly fitted hip-band to your blouse. You can use the same technique on the shirt tail of a blouse that you already have.

Even the woman who can't sew can find somebody who can to

Acheson Calls For It in Program That is Already Under Attack

WASHINGTON, July 28.—(P)—Secretary of State Acheson told congress today the United States should begin promptly to help rearm western Europe because "the possibilities of direct military aggression" by huge Soviet forces cannot be ignored.

Leading off the administration's drive for congressional approval of a $1,450,000,000 arms aid program, Acheson pictured western European countries as living under the shadow and constant fear of Russian armies which are the greatest the world has known in peacetime.

He also suggested that Russia is approaching a crossroads in its policies toward the west where it may have to choose whether to continue trying conquest by political means or to resort to "military means."

Is Under Attack

Acheson appeared before the House foreign affairs committee to make his plea for the arms program, already under attack by influential Congress members.

Acheson said "the mere presence" of the large Russian forces "has had a psychological effect that has been damaging to recovery and stability and has been a major influence in the loss of freedom and self determination in important areas of Europe."

"Nor can the possibilities of direct military aggression be ignored," he said. "When political aggression fails, as it has failed so far in western Europe, totalitarian regimes are often tempted to gain their objectives by military means, particularly when they consider that no effective resistance is possible."

"It is our aim to forestall that possibility by making it clear that military aggression against the nations of western Europe can be undertaken only at great cost and with no assurance of success."

Acheson repeatedly told the committee that if this country would back up the pledges of the North Atlantic Treaty with military assistance he believes peace would be secured and no aggressor would dare take on the whole combination of western powers.

"The fundamental pledge of the treaty, that an attack on one signatory will mean an attack on all, closes the door to piecemeal aggression," Acheson said.

Make Aggression Hazardous

The bulk of the proposed arms aid would go to the pact nations.

Acheson said that in the light of treaty pledges and with the arms program he did not believe "any aggressor at this time would dare" to take the "desperate gamble of an all-out war."

"The gangster mind likes to gamble only on sure things," he said.

"It is the aim of this program to insure that successful swift and comparatively effortless military action by an aggressor would be impossible and therefore to make the gamble too hazardous to be tempting."

One after another Acheson sought to meet the criticisms of the arms program by Senate and House members during the Senate debate on ratification of the treaty.

He said that because "our resources are limited" it is necessary to concentrate the main American effort on Europe. He

Charge Father Sold His Child

BESSEMER, Ala., July 28.—(P)—A young father has been accused of selling his two-and-a-half year old daughter for $500. Police said they are checking reports that he offered his other daughter age eight months, for adoption for $800.

The father, Layman Alvin Edwards, 26-year-old unemployed miner, told reporters he agreed to the adoption of his daughter Jewel because "I couldn't give her the things she needs."

Edwards' 24-year-old wife said $140 of the money went to buy a 1936 automobile.

Police Chief Lacey Alexander said the miner was jailed yesterday for investigation. The chief and the solicitor's office will confer on what formal charges are to be filed against Edwards.

Jewel has been living with the W. H. Sessions for the past three months. The Sessions, who are childless, have started adoption proceedings.

Just a Reminder Cooler Days Ahead

That winter will later move in after the anticipated break in the intense heat that has prevailed in this area was brought to the attention of numerous Sedalians this morning when a large transfer truck of the Schien lines brought in a shipment of sleds.

They were being unloaded at the Montgomery Ward store warehouse and while they didn't even bring a shiver to ones glimpsing them, it was just a gentle reminder that cooler days are coming, with snow, sleet and ice.

Write A New Farm Price Support Bill

Radically Different Plan Of Brannan Is Out Of The Picture

Sort Of Hybrid

There were indications it would be sort of a hybrid, containing elements of the present high-level support law and the flexible system established by the Aiken act, passed by the Republican 80th congress and due to go into effect next year unless repealed.

But the radically different plan proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan appeared entirely out of the picture.

The committee authorized a seven-man sub-committee, headed by Sen. Anderson (D-NM), to draw up a new bill.

In advance, it seemed likely to provide for the retention of the present relatively high government supports for basic commodities such as wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, rice and peanuts. For perishables such as meat and dairy products, however, sentiment seemed to lean toward a flexible system where the level of supports could be raised or lowered in an effort to control production.

Authorizes Flexible Support

The Aiken act, which will become effective next Jan. 1 unless the House and Senate get together on a bill before then authorizes such flexible supports.

Aiken expressed his willingness to cooperate with Anderson in working out a bill aimed, so Anderson says, at making the Aiken act "more serviceable."

One of the problems before the sub-committee is whether to retain the present parity formula or adopt a new one based on more up-to-date farm prices. Some sentiment was evident for using a recent 10-year period as the base.

Sen. Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) apparently kissed off the Brannan plan for this session.

"We have spent all summer on it and the time is too short to take it up because the country does not understand it," he said.

Thomas said, however, he doesn't think price supports can be kept at wartime levels all the way through.

That, in essence, was what the House voted to do last week in calling for continuation of the present law for another year and repeal of the Aiken act.

Steel Workers Want Increase

NEW YORK, July 28.—(P)—President Philip Murray of the CIO steelworkers announced today his union wants a package increase of 30 cents per hour in their current dispute with the steel companies, including a fourth round wage increase of 12½ cents.

Murray revealed the demands for the first time at the opening session of the fact finding board appointed by President Truman to avert a strike in the dispute.

Murray was the first speaker for the union before the board. The demands also include 11.23 cents per hour for pensions and 6.27 cents per hour for social insurance.

Now Into an Era to Reach Adjustment

John F. Zander in Address Today to Kiwanis Club

Today is an era of adjustment back to normal and is considerably different from the bleak days of the early thirties when then as now we might exclaim "Where Do We Go From Here?" according to John F. Zander, manager, Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, speaking before the Sedalia Kiwanis club in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon.

R. E. Mullen, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Talk on Air Academy

Zander in his talk said in part: "The Air Academy, upon which considerable money, time, and effort have been expended, is now in a state of animated suspension. A lot of hard work has been expended in an effort to bring such a fine federal institution to this part of the country. When the field was closed at the end of World War II another plan of action was instigated to establish a U. S. air academy which would be on a par with West Point for the Army and Annapolis for the Navy, and again it took the untiring efforts, finances and time of many Sedalians interested in building a better town. The important thing to remember now is that we are still in the running and in my opinion, the chances for Sedalia eventually getting this academy are by far greater than the chances of any other community or section of this country."

Worth Making Bigger

"And so, 'Where do we go from here?' Are we now going to sit back in complacency and do absolutely nothing for our future? Are we going to sit back and accept the Socialist aims and ambitions to let the state take care of us because we don't have a chance and we believe that we are heading straight for a depression and there's nothing you or I or anyone can do about it?"

Not as long as we actually believe that if Sedalia is worth living in, certainly Sedalia is worth making better, and that it is even worth making it bigger, not for the sake of bigness alone, but for the economic, cultural and social advantages that bigness can bring.

"What will Sedalia be like tomorrow and the many tomorrows of the future? You and I and many others like us would probably give anything to know the answer to that question, yet I believe the best answer is to plan a definite program of work which will establish a priority of importance for various projects carried on in Sedalia and lead to their successful accomplishment through the Chamber's help and support. Within the very near future every member of the Chamber of Commerce will be asked to help plan and develop the program of work for Sedalia's future. When you get the questionnaire which will be sent out, give it some serious thought and consideration in the interest of a better town in which to live and above all write down your convictions and be sure to return (Please turn to Page 4, Column 3)

Imperative on Cases of Polio

The John H. Bothwell Memorial hospital received the following telegram from C. F. Adams, M. D., acting director of the Division of Health for Missouri: "Bothwell Hospital, 'Sedalia, Missouri: "Mounting poliomyelitis incidence makes imperative you consider admitting acute poliomyelitis cases your area to your hospital. National foundation pledges professional consultation, necessary equipment, personnel and financial reimbursement. Wire beds you can make available if cases develop your locality. "C. F. Adams, M. D., "Acting Director, "Division of Health."

The hospital is making arrangements to care for any polio cases that may develop in this area. This request was made due to the fact that all polio centers are overcrowded, and since more cases are developing daily, further facilities must be arranged. The hospital, board of trustees, and staff feel that this is a community problem and should be handled locally. The public is urged to take a sensible attitude and realize that the problem can be managed.

Joseph Eugene Wheeler, who is a victim of poliomyelitis now confined in the hospital, is doing as well as could be expected. All polio cases will be cared for in restricted isolation, against the danger of other hospital patients contracting the disease, although the danger is no greater for the average person out in town.

The Pettis county chapter of the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation are willing to give their full cooperation in every possible way.

Sedalia Connection in the Romance of Barkley

The speculated romance of Vice President Alban W. Barkley, with Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, St. Louis, is of interest to Sedalians. Mrs. Hadley is the former Miss Jane Rucker, who resided in Sedalia at 514 Dal-Whi-Mo court, several years ago.

Mrs. Hadley is a daughter of Mrs. Estle Rucker, 7300 Cornell avenue, St. Louis, and Roy W. Rucker, of Kansas City. Her father will be remembered as a former prosecuting attorney of Pettis county, prior to the family moving to Kansas City, where Mr. Rucker went into a law firm.

The Kansas City Times this morning carried a story by the Star's Washington correspondent,

Duke Shoop, about the possible romance.

Questioned in Kansas City last night about the possibilities of a romance between his daughter and the vice president, Roy Rucker, he denied knowing anything more than the Washington teacup gossip.

Mrs. Hadley is the mother of two daughters, 18 and 15 years old. She studied at Washington university and later in Rome, concentrating on French, which she reads and writes fluently. She formerly was secretary to A. H. Compton, chancellor at Washington university.

Clark M. Clifford, who introduced Mrs. Hadley to the vice president, was best man at her wedding, Rucker explained.

Right to Help In Decision as to Share Secrets

WASHINGTON, July 28.—(P)—President Truman said today the administration and congress will "have to decide together" what course is wisest in the further development of atomic energy.

By Oliver W. DeWolf

WASHINGTON, July 28.—(P)—Congress members appeared today to have won a major victory in the hot dispute over their right to help decide whether atomic secrets are to be shared with other nations.

Lawmakers greeted with obvious satisfaction the presidential olive branch held out yesterday at a closed door meeting of state department, military, atomic and congressional policy makers.

Mr. Truman told the Senate-House atomic committee through Secretary of State Acheson that he feels any action on the share-the-atom issue must have the support of both Congress and the executive branch of government.

A vital factor in the question of sharing the nation's A-bomb secrets with Britain and Canada is the fact that the United States is largely dependent on those countries for its supplies of uranium — the material that makes atomic weapons possible.

Announcement of the president's position, as outlined by Acheson, was made by Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), chairman of the joint committee, following the 90-minute meeting in a secluded Senate office room.

"Status Quo" Plan McMahon's statement further disclosed that Acheson, acting on presidential instructions, had outlined a plan for "maintaining the status quo" and also for conducting exploratory discussions with the British and Canadians.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) ranking GOP member of the joint committee, said he understood Acheson's plan to mean the United States would not divulge any atomic secrets on a "higher level" than at present. He added he is satisfied now that Congress and the joint committee will not be by-passed.

Hickenlooper over the weekend had declared that this country must not be allowed to forfeit its lead in the atomic field by giving its know-how on weapons to any other country.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) who earlier had threatened to carry to the Senate floor a fight to prevent any secrets being given away without congressional approval, said he felt that "substantial and satisfactory progress" was made at yesterday's meeting.

Team Work For Cutting Cost

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The Senate stamped approval today on a broad-term measure expected to bring closer teamwork between the army, navy and air forces and cut their multi-billion dollar annual costs.

By voice vote it approved a compromise between Senate and House bills tightening up the original unification act of 1947.

Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) of the Senate Armed Services committee obtained Senate approval after explaining that the compromise includes most provisions previously voted by the Senate. The changes made, he said, were merely "clarifying amendments."

The conference report now goes to the House.

Child Burned by Acid

Virginia Sue Salmon, 23-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Salmon, route 1, Sedalia, was burned on the upper part of her left leg about 12:45 o'clock this afternoon by an acid, which is believed to be battery acid. The little girl found the bottle containing some of the acid on a trash pile. She was taken to the Bothwell hospital, where she was given emergency treatment. Her burns are not serious.

Try to Defeat Gas Tax Hike

Steps Toward a Referendum For Election in 1950

JEFFERSON CITY, July 28.—(P)—A third group announced today it will try to defeat a proposed two cent increase in Missouri's gasoline tax with a referendum vote in the 1950 general election.

The Missouri Petroleum Industries committee, representing oil dealers, joined the Automobile Club of Missouri and the Missouri Petroleum Association (jobbers) in the referendum fight.

A fourth group — the Missouri Bus and Truck Association — is polling its directors to decide whether to join the others.

To put the question on the 1950 ballot, opponents of Gov. Forrest Smith's plan to double the present two cent tax must get 55,000 petition signatures by Oct. 16. That will hold up the whole program until the voters pass on it next year.

The present legislature passed the tax increase bill and it is before the governor. He has not indicated when he will sign it but has expressed opposition to a referendum.

Under the bill, revenue from one of the extra cents tax would be spent on low type rural roads by the state highway commission and county courts.

C. C. Divinity of Kansas City, chairman of the Petroleum Industries committee, said in a statement this "would be the first step away from sound, economical and non-political highway planning, construction and maintenance such as Missouri has enjoyed under an efficient highway commission."

"It would permit the wasteful and political expenditure of the taxpayers' money and would thereby open the door to continuous pressure on the legislature for still further tax increases upon highway users."

Four Lose Lives In Severe Storms

By the Associated Press
Violent storms in Wisconsin and New Jersey yesterday took a toll of four lives.

Three of the fatalities occurred in Milwaukee as an electrical storm swept over eastern Wisconsin. Telephone and electric lines snapped in high wind and numerous automobiles were left stranded in flooded streets.

The Milwaukee casualties were two women and a man. All were killed when a high tension wire fell on their automobile.

Telephone and electric lines also were down in Green Bay and Sheboygan, Wis., and a number of streets were closed as a result of the hazardous conditions.

At Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., a freakish thunderstorm swept Mrs. Edna Michel, 54, down a gutter into a sewage culvert to her death.

The unusual drowning occurred as Mrs. Michel tried to cross a deep torrent of water on a Hasbrouck Heights street. The swift current knocked her down and carried her for two blocks into a drainage culvert.

A brief but violent thunderstorm also hit metropolitan New York City, stalling some subway trains for several hours, and causing considerable damage.

Labor Troubles in Australia Mount

SYDNEY, Australia, July 28.—(P)—Australia's labor troubles boiled up today, as Communist extremists clashed with moderates and police in Sydney and Melbourne.

In Melbourne, 400 striking seamen and Communists marched on Parliament House. Police drove them back from the steps of the building.

The seamen were protesting the action of the Victoria cabinet in declaring a state of emergency in Victoria. They also demanded that good morning state wires starting MK1 next.

Indicated 1949 Be Pretty Good Industry Year

Automobiles And Steel Lead in The First Half Gains

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK, July 28.—(P)—1949 may be a pretty good year for earnings in many industries, after all.

Income statements for the first half-year show many of the largest corporations making more than they did in the louted 1948 of happy profit memory.

Many of these statements are coupled with warnings that income turned down in the last couple of months, and even with predictions in some cases that the second half may be much lower than 1948's closing months.

But the profit momentum built up by many companies in the first half of this year—with the first quarter pulling most of the income load—should average out for the entire year at a pleasant and respectably high figure.

Automobiles lead this category, apparently. But almost without exception the steel companies are reporting their first six months earnings well about those in the same period of 1948.

On the declining side are most of the rails, but not all, and most of the oil companies, although not all. In the case of the oils, this year's comparisons are with a record 1948 period which most oil men will admit was as unusual as the weather. And the earnings they are reporting this year, although smaller than last year are far from puny.

More Increases Than Declines The industrial list is divided, but among the larger corporations more are showing earnings increases over last year than are showing declines.

Look at the steel companies reporting this week—all with earnings above last year: U. S. Steel, Jones & Laughlin, Inland, National, Republic, Wheeling, Portsmouth, Youngstown Sheet and Tube. Today the number two producer, Bethlehem reports.

General Motors reports today its second quarter sales and earnings set a new high record. Its first half earnings were $303½ million, compared with $206½ million last year in the same period. That doesn't sound much like a recession in Detroit.

Other large industrial, chemical and food companies reporting this week that they have bested last year's first half marks include: National Biscuit, Dow Chemical, Industrial Business Machines, Pittsburgh Plate Glass, Colgate, Palmolive - Peel, Westinghouse, Corn Products Refining, Foster Wheeler, Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator, Air Reduction.

Most of the railroads report earnings running behind this time last year.

Barnsdall Oil Co., was one of the few petroleum corporations to report earnings ahead this year.

Most of the utilities, but not all, are doing better this year, too.

Companies not doing so well this year as last, in addition to most of the oils and the rails, include some of the textiles, carpet, lumber, office equipment and a few of the chemical corporations. All of these, however, show profit this year, not losses.

The airlines, of course, are outstanding examples of companies which just now are showing profits in comparison to last year's deficits. Only a few have reported so far, but almost all say they are showing black ink entries in the second quarter.

The year may not average off so bad, after all.

Barkley Not Shopping For Wedding Ring

CHICAGO, July 28.—(P)—Vice President Barkley says he wasn't shopping for a wedding ring when he spoke at the National Association of Credit Jewelers convention last night.

The 71-year-old widower, after his address, told reporters:

"Don't ask me about any woman in St. Louis. I'm not here to buy a wedding ring, as one of you suggested."

Barkley stopped at St. Louis last Sunday and paid a social visit to Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, a St. Louis widow he met recently in Washington.

Protest Bombing That Killed Five

ATHENS, July 28.—(P)—The Greek foreign ministry said today that a Greek plane had protested that a Yugoslav plane bombed a Yugoslav village near the Greek border 15 days ago and killed five civilians.

The Yugoslav protest said a Greek officer refused when asked by the Yugoslavs to investigate the incident.

C. of C. Letters To Chest Agencies

Letters have been mailed by the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce to participating agencies of the Community Chest asking that they submit their proposed 1950 budget and a financial statement of their 1949 expenditures to the Community Chest Board, which will be in session all day Tuesday, August 16.

W. C. Askew is director of the Community Chest Solicitations. Harry Naugel is chairman of the Community Chest Board and W. C. Stephenson is vice chairman.

Man Held in County Jail Here For Observation

A man identified by a social security card as Charles Robert Harold Kelly, 40, is being held in the Pettis county jail for observation after being picked up about 1:30 o'clock this morning. He was first suspected as a possible hold-up man after he had hired a taxi cab to take him to Trenton, then made the driver return from Carrollton, and then jumped from the cab at the Sedalia city limits.

He man went to the Harrison Cao Co., Second street and Massachussets avenue about 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night and hired Billy Rimel, 732 East Fourth street, driver, to take him to Trenton. He paid Rimel $25.00 for the trip and Rimel had Mrs. Rimel to ride with him for company on the return trip. They left about 7:40 o'clock and went out Highway 65 enroute to Trenton. They had almost reached Carrollton when the man told him to turn around, that he had decided to go back to Springfield.

Rimel reported they turned around and the man kept insisting he drive faster and not let any cars catch up with him or pass them. The man, Rimel said, told him he had some business back at Springfield and expected to get about $125.00 from his brother-in-law and would then go back to Trenton.

Jumped From Taxi

As they neared Sedalia about 11 o'clock the man saw a car coming from the rear and told Rimel to stop. Rimel started to slow down and when going not more than twenty-five or thirty miles an hour his passenger jumped out. Rimel said, "I was too scared to see if he got hurt, but drove plenty fast to the police station."

Tom Thuston, Negro, 300 North Osage avenue, called at police headquarters and told them he saw the man get out of the cab and run to Thurston's car and tried to open the door. He said his wife got frightened and he did, too. Thinking it was a holdup, Thurston speeded up to get away and went directly to the police and made the report.

Police and State Patrolmen went to the scene but were unable to find any trace of the man. This was about 11 o'clock. Nearly two and a half hours later, police received a prowler call from 407 South Engineer avenue and made a run to that place. Another call was received a man had run through the Welcome Inn, Third street and Engineer avenue, a short time before.

Police and the State Patrol, began circling the area to look for the prowler while one car checked with neighbors as to a description of the man. The man was first seen crawling over a fence behind Norman Stevens Co., Fourth street and Engineer avenue, into the back yard of Roy M. Mitchell, 407 South Engineer.

Shot to Frighten

Mr. Mitchell called to the man and took one shot with a shotgun through the bedroom window to scare him. The man ran between the house and Mitchell took another shot. Neither shots struck Kelly.

At Fourth street and Wagner avenue, a block east of Engineer, as the Police Patrol came around, the man ran out shouting to them to stop. He got into the car and was taken to police headquarters. He told the officers he noticed

J. A. Marcus in Story Before Sub-Committee Of Judiciary

WASHINGTON, July 28.—(P)—American industrial know-how "worth billions of dollars," has been stolen by Soviet spies in the last 25 years, a Senate judiciary subcommittee was told today.

The witness was J. Anthony Marcus of New York City, president of the Institute of Foreign Trade. He described the institute as a private organization that advises American exporting and importing firms.

Marcus, who said he came to this country from Russia in 1910, testified that "I have been witnessing the filching of American technological know-how" by Russian agents over the last quarter of a century.

"The center of the Soviet economic spy system in America," he said, "has been and still is the Amtorg Trading Corporation of New York. Amtorg is the Russian government's trading agency."

The committee is holding hearings on a bill of Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) to make it easier for the government to bar or deport subversive aliens.

Taken Too Lightly

Marcus told the committee that the threat of "industrial espionage in America" is taken too lightly, relating this story to back up his point.

He said that last December,

By Bruce Bissat

"As a nation we cannot afford to become economic hypochondriacs because a country, like an individual, can worry itself sick."

This and a lot more talk like it came recently from Charles Luckman, president of Lever Brothers Company, the big soap and food products maker.

Always a dynamo Luckman was whirling at his highest pitch as he outlined for Americans the key reasons they should stop quaking with fear over prospects of a depression.

He cited 50,000,000 workers on the job, $200,000,000,000 in liquid savings and an estimated $215,000,000,000 total personal income for 1949.

"It would seem preposterous that anyone could manipulate these figures and come up with an answer that equals disaster," he said. "Yet that is precisely what many Americans are doing."

It's true. And sad and a bit ironic, too. Not many months ago the big cry was: "Let's halt this dangerous rise in prices." Now we've done it and the resulting downturn has us scared stiff.

For a long time we'd been breaking more business records than we had any right to expect we could. Now, just because we've slacked off from that smashing pace, the attitude of many is that we're heading for ruin. Businessmen, politicians, commentators, citizens of every walk nervously await each august announcement from high places on where we stand.

Luckman will have done us a service if his talk at Los Angeles helps to shake us out of this silly frame of mind.

His advice, naturally, was directed most pointedly at businessmen who had grown accustomed to a plush state of affairs and were shocked when those conditions vanished.

"Sales managers, vice presidents and presidents have shiny pants from hatching profits on cushioned chairs," he said. "Let's go out and sell goods."

A lot of us who aren't executives have had things pretty flat since the war ended and maybe we, too, have shiny pants.

Certainly, it's foolish for us to sit around expecting the private enterprise system to prove itself to us through thick and thin. It can only work if we make it work. So if we can just stop trembling long enough, maybe we can get the jobs done that will keep the economy going smoothly.

True Liberalism Adapts Itself To Changing Times

By Bruce Bissat

What does it mean to be a liberal?

In the 19th century, liberalism meant a high degree of freedom from government restrictions in both the economic and political realms. It set the stage for the commercial and industrial growth that made over much of the world.

In the 20th century, by an odd twist, liberalism seems to symbolize the very opposite tendencies: Bigger government, more restrictions, less room for free choice.

How can the term "liberalism" have any worth if it can be stretched to cover these extremes?

Let's wade into the confusion surrounding this sadly overworked term and see if we can't determine whether it still has any value.

To have any continuing meaning, liberalism clearly must be defined in a manner that will make it adaptable to changing times and conditions.

To define it thus means to free it from any permanent association with a fixed pattern of ideas, whether social, economic or political. In other words, it can't be identified with a pat political doctrine, for political philosophies become outmoded and die.

Obviously, if liberalism meant just the 19th century variety, it is practically dead today. If it means big government, it might wither away in some future time when trends perhaps veer in another direction.

Couldn't it be possible that liberalism is really an attitude, a way of thinking that shifts to meet the varying circumstances of an always changing society? But what sort of an attitude?

The record of history suggests an answer. The men who have earned the liberal label seem to have had in common a bold willingness to experiment, to try the new, to shatter old frameworks in quest of solutions to pressing human problems.

By contrast, conservatives appear most often to search for answers within the existing structure of society. They may be no less concerned with solving human problems; they simply are pre-disposed to solve them without breaking new ground.

If a liberal is properly defined as a ground breaker, then in one era he may favor fewer government restrictions and in another he might seek more. His eye is on the problems facing society. He feels no allegiance to any cause but their solution.

Liberalism thus characterized is not a monopoly of any political party. It may exist side by side with conservatism — and does — in both major U. S. parties. By the same token, any individual may exhibit both liberal and conservative tendencies.

But the liberal attitude must show itself in action if it is to count. It is hardly enough to announce, "I am a liberal," in the hope that you thereby establish yourself on a high plane of righteousness. You earn the label solely by seeking liberal solutions to problems.

Furthermore, it is just as honorable and important to be a conservative. Society is not always breaking new ground in all directions; much of the time it is busy nurturing and improving ground already broken.

Liberalism and conservatism represent our most fundamental attitudes toward life. They are natural tendencies that ought to be honestly expressed. Nothing is sillier than to regard liberalism automatically as a cloak of virtue. It is a sound, useful attitude; but it is not the only one a man of good will can have.

Middle-Bracket Housing

There's still one more piece of housing legislation the Truman administration would like to get through. It's a bill to provide housing aids for the middle-income groups. The housing bill just passed is intended to improve housing conditions for some 810,000 low-income families, as well as to clear many slums. The next step is to do something for families in the $2500-to-$4,000-a-year income group. Labor unions are particularly interested in the welfare of this group. What they want are direct loans for single family housing developments, organized as cooperatives and made eligible for 100 per cent government financing on 40 to 60-year terms at 2½ per cent interest, where private financing is not available. No action is expected on such legislation at this session, although several such bills have been introduced. They will still be on the calendar for consideration by Congress next year.

For Better or For Worse?

Recent tragic air crashes in various parts of the world have pointed up the lack of official statistics on international air travel. I.A.T.A. — the International Air Transport Association — which has headquarters in Montreal, is now trying to remedy this deficiency. It has asked all international air carriers to report facts and figures on all accidents. Best estimates are that in 1946 there was one passenger fatality for every 28,000,000 passenger miles flown. In 1947 the estimate is one killed for every 21,000,000 passenger miles flown. Estimates for 1948 have not been made, but it is believed the record will be better than in the two previous years. Crashes thus far in 1949 are at a rate that could make this year's record worse.

• What They Say

Dr. Charles D. Osborne (Sedalia) — We are again confronted with infantile paralysis in the state and throughout the middle west, and now we have one recognized case in our Sedalia hospital. The disease has not reached epidemic proportions in Missouri. Again we are experiencing some of those symptoms of fear which lead to panic — panic which is both unintelligent and cruel. We have had infantile paralysis with us for the past forty years to my personal knowledge as a physician. Rarely has a year passed without my having seen at least one case. The recovered victims are testimony to its continued prevalence. Aside from ordinary hygienic and sanitary measures there is nothing to do that is effective as a preventive measure. To be adequately equipped and armed to treat the disease when it occurs is all that we can do. It is a disease that more than any other requires hospital care. The presence of a patient in the hospital does not create an extra hazard for the other patients nor does it jeopardize the well being of nurses or other employees of the hospital.

Physicians treating the disease and nurses in immediate care of the patient should be the most liable to it as both are usually under more or less strain. I have, in forty years, known of but one doctor to have the disease and he had been on vacation, had not seen a case of the disease for two years and the disease was not prevalent at the time.

Polio strikes like lightning and like lightning rarely strikes in the same place. It would be as sensible to abandon a golf course because someone had been the victim of a bolt as to leave the home community, a hotel, home or hospital because someone was or had been stricken there. You might run under the next bolt.

The closing of play grounds, recreation areas, churches and other places where people congregate seems almost silly and certainly is ineffective in the light of our past experience and present knowledge. The most potent aid to this scourge is FEAR. FEAR which engenders panic, individually and collectively. Fear in its very self-centeredness makes individuals obstructive to measures taken for the common good, thereby making one cruel toward the rest of us.

Several years ago I headed a committee of the Pettis County Medical Society to meet the then epidemic of this disease. Our hospital was unequipped with any apparatus and safeguards needed to treat the afflicted. We were forced to transport acute urgent cases to other cities where respirators were available, sometimes with results which were not so good and even disastrous.

Through the beneficence of Mr. Elliot Stafford, Sr., trustee of the Mae Hawkins Igenfritz fund, we obtained the latest model Iron Lung by express from Boston. Through the activity of our present board of trustees and the activity of their efficient business manager and chief nurse we have at hand those other safeguards and a corps of nurses trained in the use of all apparatus. Our sole need to meet all requirements is a modern oxygen tent with refrigeration which may be had at a little under $1,000.00. If any individual or organization cares to donate this machine to Bothwell hospital they can contact the manager.

With all safeguards provided in our own hospital, with a staff of less overworked physicians augmented by quite a few young active doctors who are seasoned and well trained, this community can continue its normal activities secure in the knowledge that if polio strikes in their homes that at least they can have the best treatment and all of the safeguards immediately available.

Flat Feet Often Cause More Pain in Legs Than in Feet

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

One of the common causes for pains in the legs is foot trouble, particularly flat feet. When the arches have collapsed and are flat new strains appear. These strains are sometimes felt in the feet, but sometimes also they act on the muscles or joints of the legs and cause pain in these areas more than in the feet themselves.

Pain of such origin should, of course, be treated by correcting the foot trouble. This usually involves more than just wearing a pad or support. Physicians or chiropodists are often able to correct the difficulty so that the pains in the legs will disappear.

Another type of pain in the legs is one which comes on in the calf muscles after walking a few blocks rapidly or climbing stairs. This condition goes under the name of intermittent claudication. It is caused by insufficient supply of blood to the muscles usually because of hardening of the arteries in the legs.

Avoid Too Much Exercise
During rest the circulation is adequate but exercise increases the need for blood. This condition always requires the advice of a doctor as it may be a sign of hardening of the arteries. A person with this kind of pain should avoid taking so much exercise that it brings on the pain.

Quite a lot of people complain of pains in the legs which occur at night only and which may even wake them up from a sound sleep. This is a puzzling condition but it is probably connected somehow with the circulation of the blood in the legs.

People with this symptom often say that if they get up and walk around for a short time the pain or cramps will disappear.

Neuritis or sciatica can also cause leg pains. Other diseases of the circulation, such as Buerger's disease, are possibilities.

QUESTION: What causes dryness around the ears? Is it lack of some vitamin?

ANSWER: This condition is unlikely to be caused by a vitamin lack and something else is much more probable, such as an irritant with which the skin come in contact.

Labor-saving Devices Reduce Work, But Don't Add Glamor

A New York wife recently shot herself after a quarrel with her husband over who would do the dishes in the electric dishwasher. That incident is a not-so-gentle reminder that labor-saving devices alone can't take the drudgery out of housework.

If a woman gets the idea that housework is beneath her dignity, she is going to feel like a drudge whether she plunges her hands in soapy dishwater or puts the dishes in a machine and flicks a switch.

Not so long ago I heard a father admit ruefully that when he built a new home for his family he thought he had eliminated most of the reasons for bickering among his children and complaints about housework from his wife.

Remembering that they fought every night about the dishes, he installed an electric dishwasher. Recalling, also, that they argued as to whose turn it was to empty the garbage, he put a unit in the sink to take care of the garbage. To keep his wife from complaining about all the clothes the family got dirty, he installed an automatic washer and drier.

Housework Still Produced Complaints
"But," said he, there's just as much bickering as ever, and my wife still complains about the housework. So I guess you can't win."

No, a man can't win. Unless, of course, he is lucky enough to be married to a woman who does not regard housework as beneath her, who takes some pride in her job as homemaker and who instills in her children a feeling of satisfaction in doing their part to keep their home a livable, attractive place.

It's just as easy to fight over who is going to start the electric dishwasher as who is going to dry if all household work is a hated, degrading chore. Labor saving gadgets can lighten housework. But you can't count on them to glorify it.

Q—Why is the United States Senate referred to as the "House That Never Dies?"
A—Senators are elected to six-year terms at two-year intervals which overlap. So, in any election year, only one-third of the Senate changes, the remaining two-thirds being members whose terms have not expired. Hence the Senate is referred to as the "House That Never Dies."

A—Magnetic compasses are of no help in the areas above Hudson bay and below the Straits of Magellan, close to the magnetic poles. Nor can a sun compass, which indicates the direction of flight by direct sighting on the sun, be depended upon because of the many hours of twilight in these regions. The same is true of the astro compass, which measures direction by the stars or other heavenly bodies.

Q—How are sea turtles' eggs hatched?

THE STORY: When Mrs. Malone took a job as a cook for the wealthy, arrogant, eccentric Mrs. Eyerson who lives in a gigantic trailer pulled by a truck, she didn't realize the woman was having fun at her expense.

From the Atom Bomb. Mrs. Malone has just become convinced that an atomic war is impending—it might come any moment—and when it comes only a few survivors will remain on earth. Although Mrs. Malone believes the idea fantastic, Rudy, the chauffeur who may once have been a movie star, says that she entertained many big scientists and politicians and that she has made her plans carefully—as if one fact, a female Noah, says Rudy. Also in the party, traveling in two trailers, are the Marchese Dellacasa, who is an exiled nobleman who is teaching Mrs. Eyerson formal manners, and Victor, a Filipino who went to Columbia. After Rudy finishes telling Mrs. Malone about the caravan and the chromium "ark," Mrs. Malone says she's not believing a single word.

VIII
THAT night Mrs. Malone could not sleep. Her berth was comfortable and the radio spoke reassuringly of commonplaces. The old patterns and categories seemed to be in order. But she was restless and uneasy.

At first she tried to reason herself into normal drowsiness. But all the hobgoblins of the past four years howled through her thoughts. The words, "One world, or none." The terrifying cartoons. The sane, calm voices over the air speaking of the issue which would determine man's survival.

The Great Change on that day when the first Bomb fell, when the illusion of safety perished, together with thousands of Japanese civilians. The shock of realization: maybe our turn will be next. And the sense of Power, but an aversion to using it.

Yet there the problem was: kill or be killed. The stench of hell was in the uranium piles.

Mrs. Malone sat straight up in bed. She thought: "I'm going nuts! I've got to get out of here and go back to the city and people who have some sense. That woman!"

She threw back the bed coverings, got to her feet and began hastily to dress. The cubicle seemed suddenly too small, like a prison. Mrs. Malone pinned her heavy braided hair into place, packed the few things she had out, jammed her hat down on her head and snatched up her coat.

THE far door of the kitchen stood open and the entryway beyond was illumined by a tube of blue light. Mrs. Malone could hear voices in the salon, and peering at her wrist watch in the blue gloom, saw that it was after midnight.

Cautiously she hunted for the door, which she remembered when closed seemed part of the metal wall. An instrument panel offered a possibility of escape. She took a chance and turned one of the knobs.

Instantly the silver screen separating the entryway from the main compartment folded back. Mrs. Eyerson and the Marchese Dellacasa were playing gin rummy. They glanced up, startled, at Mrs. Malone. Then Mrs. Eyerson spoke in her dark voice.

"You're trying to run away, aren't you?" she said.

"Yes."

"Come here."

"Please let me go," Mrs. Malone pleaded. "Please open the door and let me go. I'll hitch-hike back to Los Angeles."

"Come here," Mrs. Eyerson repeated.

Miss Rose Diener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Diener of Versailles became the bride of Mr. Albert Wenger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Wenger of Versailles July 24 at 11:00 o'clock at the Mount Zion church. Rev. J. R. Shank officiated. Gladioli with honeysuckle and ferns decorated the church.

A quartet sang "Oh Father Lead Us" and "Oh, Perfect Love." The bride chose for her wedding a street length dress of white crepe and white accessories. She carried a white Bible. Her corsage was red.

Mrs. Norman Wenger was matron of honor. She chose a pink crepe dress. Her corsage was white.

Mr. Norman Wenger was the groomsmen. Ushers were Mr. Paul Nebel and Mr. Danallee Benton, both of Versailles.

Mrs. Diener, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue dress with black accessories.

Mrs. Wenger, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gray dress. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at 12:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, where 75 guests were present. White gladioli decorated the home. There was a three tiered wedding cake. Hostesses were Esther Diener, aunt of the bride and Laura Diener, sister of the bride, both of Versailles.

Immediately after the reception the couple left for their honeymoon. They will return about the first of August. They plan to reside on a farm seven miles northeast of Versailles.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Eddelmeire and son Clayton of Kalison, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Detwiler; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bender, all of Iowa City, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sebrock, Mrs. Elane Sebrock and Misses Alice and Mary Sebrock, all of Garden City.

Mrs. E. H. McLaughlin of 1301 West Third street, will have a party of three at the St. Louis Municipal Opera performance of "Irene" Sunday evening.

A group of girls gave a picnic Tuesday evening at Spring Fork on honor of Miss Beverly Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peters, 1805 South Ohio avenue, who celebrated her 16th birthday anniversary.

Those attending were: Misses Loretta Burton, Cynthia Gorrell, Evelyn Romig, Marjorie Scruton, Doris Jean Steele, Verna Mae Williams and the honoree, Miss Beverly Peters. Miss Neva Ehlis was invited but was unable to attend.

Mrs. Lawson Smith entertained with a miscellaneous shower on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Smith of Hughesville in honor of Mrs. Gerald Smith, a recent bride, the former Miss Lucille Thomas of Sedalia.

The home was artistically decorated with gladioli and zinnias. The dining table was covered with a lace cloth with the centerpiece, a crystal bowl filled with yellow gladioli, flanked by three crystal candle holders with yellow candles.

In the living room a table was placed before the fireplace with a white paper umbrella, yellow motifs and streamers under which the gifts were placed.

Refreshments of ice cream, chocolate and caramel covered white cake was served to the seventy guests present. Among the out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas of near Sedalia, parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Thomas, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom, of Sedalia.

The children and grandchildren of the late George H. Reynolds enjoyed a picnic supper and family reunion at Liberty park Sunday, July 24th. Those present were Mrs. Cora Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baxter and sons Bobby and Buddy, Mr. and Mrs. Othel Griffith and children Joyce, Delaine, Carol and Richard, all of Smithton; Mrs. Gussie Dusenberry of Cincinnati, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baxter and sons Billy, Tommy and Jimmy of Hays, Kas., and Dr. and Mrs. William H. Reynolds and daughter Della Mae, of Sedalia.

Miss Mary Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Nichols, north of Ottaville, was married to Mr. Woodrow Webb of Kansas City Sunday afternoon, July 17th at 3:00 o'clock at the Trinity Methodist church in Kansas City.

Miss Nichols is a graduate of Ottaville high school and C. M. S. C. in Warrensburg. She is a teacher in Kansas City and has been employed in the Kansas City schools the past several years.

They will be at home in Kansas City where Mr. Webb has employment as head of the J. C. Penney store art decorative department. Mrs. T. F. Nichols and son Clyde and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nichols were present at the wedding. The father was unable to attend due to illness.

Moved To South Kentucky
Mr. and Mrs. Allen Goodridge have moved from 1001 West Third street, to 1411 1/2 South Kentucky avenue.

Quick Way To High Society

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, July 27 — (AP) — Want to crash high society? One of the quickest ways today is to buy a famous gem or collection of jewels.

Society then will let down its barriers and invite you in just to look at your pretty baubles through lifted lognettes.

As proof of this truism in their trade jewelers cite the late Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean, famous Washington hostess and owner of the Hope diamond.

"There is no doubt that any woman who owned that stone would be made socially in Washington," said Daniel F. Frey, executive director of the Harry Winston jewelry firm which purchased the fabulous gem from the McLean estate.

"When she gave parties, it was her entrance that created more attention than the arrival of noted diplomats, generals, or supreme court justices. In fact, many came to her parties only to see the diamond. She realized this, and loved to show it."

Among the financial titans of the past who used jewelry to widen their fame or notoriety were "Diamond Jim" Brady and J. J. Hill, the "empire builder." "Hill carried a heart-shaped emerald in his pocket as a good-luck token," said Frey. "It was quite a token — worth $250,000. And his estate sold it at a profit after his death."

Was Great Collection
Some jewelers think that for good taste and quality the greatest American collector was Mrs. Elbert T. Gary, wife of the steel magnate.

"One of her finest pieces was a rope of 166 perfectly matched single carat gems," recalled Frey. It was a chastely simple string of glitter — only six feet long.

The Winston firm has fashioned 21 other diamonds from her collection into a sternly elegant bracelet. It's available for $165,000. The Hope diamond, valued variously from $250,000 to $2,000,000 in its ill-starred history, is currently off the market.

"We are sending it on a nationwide tour to raise funds for local charities," explained Frey. "It has such a reputation for bringing bad luck — perhaps now it will bring some good luck."

Some 500 jewelers have requested permission to display it. The Hope diamond's value comes not

CHURCH NEWS

Miss Pauline Chamberlain of Hughesville, chaperoned the following children to Camp Jennings on the Lake of the Ozarks, to the Girls Auxiliary and Royal Ambassador Camp, the camp being sponsored by the Aarmony Association Women's Missionary Union of the Baptist church:

John Wesley Parkhurst, Billy Foster, Aleta Jean Moon, Jeanette Moon, Barbara Thomas and Georgie Corson.

The session lasted from Monday noon to Wednesday noon.

Mrs. Virginia Evans, route 5, entertained for the monthly party of the Home Builders Sunday school class at the First Christian church Monday evening at her home. Home made ice cream and cake were served for refreshments. There were 35 present.

The base of the diamond market is still the man of middle income who will pay up to $400 for a half-carat engagement ring. Recently there has been an influx of foreign buyers seeking the larger stones for investment purposes. They feel jewels will depreciate less than the uneasy currencies of their uneasy countries.

Jewelers also are excited over the prospect of reviving gem-wearing among men. "We rather let that market slip away from us," sighed Frey. "But it is coming back slowly."

Jeweled rings are particularly popular at present with Texas oil millionaires. And they're competitive about them. They compare the sizes of their diamond rings and the loser flies here and tells his jeweler: "Make me a bigger one. I'll

PSC Gets An Education In Economics

Professor At NYU Covered Ground On About Everything

JEFFERSON CITY, July 28—(P)—The Missouri Public Service Commission took a five hour course in economic theory Wednesday.

Herbert B. Dorau, consulting economist and a professor at New York university, covered the ground of inflation, deficiency spending and "small" and "big" dollars.

He was testifying for Southwestern Bell Telephone company in the utility's bid for a $5,000,000 rate increase.

"Big" and "Small" Dollars
Where Dr. Dorau called them "big" and "small" dollars, the commission referred to deflationary and inflationary dollars as either "valuable" or "cheap."

"Democratic society," Dr. Dorau told the commission, "having once discovered inflation, will never give it up."

He pointed to Washington. There, he said, they're planning $8,000,000,000 (B) worth of deficit spending just to keep prices up.

The economist drew a smile from Homer Thorp when he declared accountants are becoming the dictators of American business.

Thorp is chief accountant for Missouri's utility regulating agency.

Then Dr. Dorau added that in his theory the engineers also have a part in establishing values and rates.

He said accountants are not economists. But accounting has become more and more an economic dictatorship.

That started a discussion of inflation and brought the comparison between big and small dollars.

The economist said Southwestern Bell, under present conditions, should be permitted to earn at least 6.5 per cent net return in Missouri.

He went on from there to explain and defend his theory. Not all of it was acceptable to cities opposing the rate increase.

Tuesday, Dr. Dorau said he opposed the stand of the late Sen. Norris (R-Mo.) as expressed on the floor of the U. S. Senate several years ago.

"I object," interposed Jerome Joffe of Kansas City, representing that city's opposition to the proposed rate increase.

"So do I," Dr. Dorau snapped back.

It looked like Dorau was referring to Senator Norris' opinion while the Kansas City attorney was merely objecting to the trend of the professor's testimony.

Morris E. Osburn, chairman of the Public Service Commission, said he understood that as an expert in economics Dr. Dorau had a right to agree with some people and disagree with others. That quieted things down and Dr. Dorau continued.

It was the third day of the PSC hearing in the rate increase case.

Kansas Retail Stores Have Untaxed Liquor

TOPEKA, Kas., July 28—(P)—The finding of quantities of untaxed liquor in Kansas retail liquor stores touched off a sweeping investigation of violations of the state's new liquor law.

The crackdown came only eight days after the opening of the first licensed liquor stores in the state on July 19 ending a 69-year-old ban against liquor sales in Kansas.

Arthur A. Herrick, state liquor control director, said the untaxed liquor had been found in stores in seven cities with reports of his investigators still incomplete.

He said agents of his office have been checking every store in the state. Slightly more than 400 retail liquor store licenses have been issued, but all of the places are not in operation yet.

Ault Participates In 'Little Olympics'

OSLO, Norway, July 28—(AP)—The powerful United States track and field squad figured to take the lead tonight in the second session of the three-day "Little Olympics."

The combined Scandinavia team held a 104½ to 78½ advantage after the first nine events, most of them Nordic specialties.

Heading tonight's program is the first half of the decathlon competition. Young Bob Mathias of Tulare, Calif., the American and Olympic champion, is heavily favored.

Colored Team Of Fayette Will Offer
Rugged Competition

The Sedalia Chiefs will tangle with the strong colored team of Fayette, Mo., under the lights at Liberty Park, tonight at 8:15 o'clock. This will be an exhibition contest, and will probably be the toughest game of the year for the Chiefs as they meet the older and more experienced squad.

The Fayette aggregation has lost only two games this season, and have among their victories a win over the Jefferson City Eagles, a powerful Negro team that participated in the State Semi-Pro tournament at Jefferson City recently.

The starting hurler for the Chiefs has not been announced, but "Big Jim" Egbert, Donald "Duck" Eschbacher, and Gene May will be available for mound duty. Either Whitworth or Barbour will be working behind the plate. The Chiefs regular line-up, now working very smoothly after a shuffling for better defense, will be in the field.

"Duck" Eschbacher, who has been out of action almost all season because of an arm injury, is now reported almost completely well and will be available for action tonight if necessary. Eschbacher has been working out of the past few days, after close care of his arm, and will soon add even greater strength to the Chiefs' mound staff, which is very strong at present.

The Chiefs now are in second place in the Central Missouri Ban Johnson league, with five victories against one loss. Moberly, the only team that has beaten them, leads the league with a record of five wins and no defeats.

Play Saturday Night

Saturday night at 9:15 o'clock, the Chiefs will meet the highly touted Lapatina Ban Johnson team of Kansas City in another exhibition contest. Joe Imhauser, ace right-hander of the Chiefs, will be on the mound then.

J.C. Redbirds Defeated
Patton Creamery Team

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 28—(AP)—The Missouri Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament, down to six teams, will be cut to five in the only game scheduled for tonight. Versailles will play Columbia Maytags in an elimination game at 8 p. m.

The Jefferson City Redbirds and Holcomb, until undefeated crews left, will meet in a semi-finals contest Friday. The eliminations are expected to be completed Sunday, with the finals scheduled for Friday, August 5.

The Redbirds gave Patton Creamery of Springfield its first defeat last night, 9-2, and Marshall eliminated California 5-3.

The Sedalia Athletics took a 6 to 4 decision from the Jefferson City Eagles at Liberty park, Wednesday night, with Bus Walker pitching a three-hitter.

Walker fanned 11 batters in addition to setting the visitors down with three hits, and walked four men. McMackin started behind the plate, but became ill in the third inning and was relieved by Taylor who caught a good game the rest of the way.

Beismeyer Leads Hitters

The Athletics collected six hits off H. Thompson, Eagles hurler, and made the most of six errors in their scoring. Beismeyer led Sedalia with three hits for five trips to the plate. Thompson got nine strikeouts.

Sedalia scored one run in the first on a single by Beismeyer after Thompson had walked and went to second on a wild pitch. They picked up two more in the second after one out, after Wolf singled and Camper, Eagles center fielder, made two errors on McMackin and Walker to allow the tallies. In the third Beismeyer got a single, went to second on a wild pitch, to third on an error, and scored on a ground out.

Big Inning

The Eagles had their big inning in the eighth with two runs. With one out, Bagby got on by an error and went to second on a wild pitch. Logan and Carter walked, the next batter struck out, and then Kirkpatrick, pinch-hitting for Camper, singled home the two runs but was caught between first and second trying to make a double.

Hurler For Mendon Held Local Team
To Three Hits

The Sedalia Blues piled up their biggest losing score of the season, when they were defeated 13-3 by Mendon, Wednesday night in a baseball game played at Bash Stadium in Mendon. The Blues suffered a 5-4 loss earlier in the season, when Sid Kennedy faced the aggregation on the mound.

Last night's pitcher for Mendon was just as good as Kennedy, when he held the Blues to three hits and struck out 14 Sedalia batters. The star hurler, Veach, formerly played with a Memphis Tenn. club, and had just returned to Mendon, after signing a contract with a St. Louis ball club.

The Mendon team has been playing heads up ball, and have piled 16 victories against three losses for the season. They have defeated teams such as, Jefferson City Eagles, Glasgow Legions, Carpenters Union of Kansas City, Fayette Eagles and the Brookfield Lions.

Runs Scored

Two runs were scored by Mendon in the first inning on a hit batsman, single, and a fielders choice. The team added two runs in the second on a single, walk and a single. Another run was scored in the third on a hit, sacrifice and a hit. A run was scored in the fifth on a hit, stolen base and an error.

The Blues made the score read 6-2 in the eighth inning on walks to Slocum and Sullivan, and an error on Barr's long fly to deep center.

Mendon's big inning, came in the last half of the eighth, when the team rallied for seven runs to ice the game.

The Blues scored their third run in the ninth inning on a single by Alpert, hit batsman and an error.

Batteries

Veach and Parris formed the Mendon battery, while Rapp started for Sedalia and was relieved in the eighth inning by Turchek, with Weller going all the way behind the plate.

The Sedalia Blues will hold practice, Friday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, at Housel park to get in shape for a home game Sunday afternoon with Raymore team.

By way of another workman-like warm-up for the big Brooklyn series in St. Louis this weekend the Cardinals took the second straight game from Philadelphia last night, 7 to 3, the same score by which Brooklyn defeated the Chicago Cubs yesterday.

The Redbirds wind up the Philly series this afternoon, with Al Brazie going against Ken Heintzelman, who has won 13 and lost 3 as compared with Brazie's 9-5 record. The Dodgers also have another go at Chicago.

Scalpers Demand $25 a Ticket

The Cards still have a lead of a game and a half. Regardless of the results this afternoon, the league leadership will be at stake in the series with Brooklyn. For those games, incidentally, it is reported that Scalpers are demanding $25 a ticket.

Musial Delivered Big Punch

The big St. Louis punch again was delivered by Stan Musial, who drove in three runs with a double in the second. That one kayoed the wild Mr. Borowy, and Ken Trinkle took over.

George Munger went the route for the Cards, giving up 11 hits. He pitched out of several jams and had the help of four double plays, for his third straight victory and a season total of nine against four defeats.

Browns Lost Twin Bill

At Philadelphia the Browns lost two games, 7-3 and 8-6, to the same club from which they won a doubleheader in St. Louis last week.

The reason this time was that the Brownie pitchers couldn't hold the leads that were built up for them. In the first game the Browns were leading 3-1 until the fourth. In the second they piled up five runs in the first inning, but the A's had them tied by the fourth.

Brewers Beat Saints 4 to 2

By The Associated Press

There was gloom over Lexington Park last night as second place St. Paul continued its tailspin in the American Association. League leaders dropped a 4 to 2 decision for their sixth loss in their last seven home games.

Merchants Beat Windsor 15 to 5

The Sedalia Merchants pounded out 13 hits to defeat Windsor by a score of 15 to 5 in a softball game there last night.

After getting off to a shaky start the Merchants settled down to play a good ball game behind the 7-hit pitching of McNeal.

Windsor scored all their runs in the first two innings, with a home run by I. Adair in the first with the bases loaded and the other run in the second.

Swisher and Tucker hit home runs for Sedalia, while McNeal and Tuggle tied for the hitting honors, getting three for four.

Coronation Service of Baptist Youth

Held Tuesday Night With a Special Program

The annual Coronation and Recognition Service of the youth organization of the Harmony Baptist Association, sponsored by the Woman's Missionary Union, was held Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church. Mrs. E. Leonard Hall, Association Young People's leader, was in charge.

The two groups recognized were the Royal Ambassadors, the boys' organization, and the Girls' Auxiliary, the girls' organization. The girls and boys go step by step receiving recognition for the work they have accomplished each year.

Two girls, Charlene Laudenberger and Mary Jo Case, reached the top step which gives them the honor of being queens and they were crowned at the ceremony and presented with white Bibles from the Association by Mrs. Bradley, Association president.

The devotional thought was by Mrs. W. P. Arnold, divisional chairman.

Mrs. B. B. Bradley, Association president, had charge of the W. M. U. business session, at which time Associational officers were elected for the coming year.

Girls' Auxiliary Allegiance

Following the organ prelude by Mrs. Clyde Williams, candles were lighted by Betty Lea Newland and Shirley Thomas.

The Royal Ambassador Allegiance and the Girls' Auxiliary Allegiance was followed by music.

The maidens, the first step in the girls' organization, were Sue McNealy, Ruth Ann Wareham, Sandra Houston, Gail Williams, Marjorie Pierce, Marian Bradley, Florence Mabry, Louella Griffith, Shirley Cooper, Shirley Kronk, Judith Curran, Linda Bradley, Carolyn Houston and Betty Wilkins. Ladies-in-waiting were Betty Momberg, Judy Momberg, Judith Case and Patsy Bradley. Princesses were Ilene Moon, Elaine Bail, Anita Miller, Bernice Bacon.

Miss Rose Marie Reed played a violin solo.

Following the coronation Fred Arbogast, Associational Brotherhood president, offered a prayer.

Benediction was by Dr. Thomas W. Croxton, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Boys and girls participating were from the Calvary Baptist

Jury Acquits A Girl Of Murder

WAUKEGON, Ill., July 28—(AP)—A jury Wednesday night acquitted 17-year-old Joyce Schumaker of a charge of murdering her 53-year-old married lover.

After the verdict was announced the thin, nervous high school girl exclaimed:

"I feel wonderful. It is a wonderful surprise. I have never stopped praying in four months."

Earlier, Joyce had testified she fatally shot Carl Reader, 53, a clerk in the high school she attended, but she insisted the shooting was accidental.

She told the court she had been intimate with Reader before she knew he was married but not afterward.

Britons Wait For Free Spectacles

LONDON, July 28—(AP)—Three million Britons are waiting for free spectacles under Britain's socialized medicine. Many will have to wait seven to eight months.

The news letter of the Association of optical practitioners, gave the figures today.

There was a run on spectacles when Britain's health program started a year ago.

Ministry of Health spokesmen said thousands who needed glasses postponed getting them until they could get them free from the state.

Maj Gen. Edward Mann Lewis World War I Commander Dies

OAKLAND, Calif., July 28—(AP)—Major General Edward Mann Lewis died Wednesday in Oakland veterans' hospital at the age of 81.

In World War I he commanded the third brigade of the second division on the Verdun front and throughout the Chateau-Thierry offensive. Afterward he commanded the 30th division until returning home in 1919. He retired from Army service in 1927.

church, the East Sedalia Baptist church and the First Baptist church.

After the program refreshments were served in the basement to more than one hundred guests.

Mrs. E. C. Martin, chairman was in charge of the serving.

The leader's helpers were James Sands, Jess E. Tuggle, Miss Bebecca Arnold and Laura Mae Fairfax. Ushers were Miss Velma Thomas, Miss Dorothy Townner, M Fred Lyon, Robert Van Horn, Miss Dorothy Williams and Miss Betty Bradley.

The song leader was Miss Eugenia Arnold.

From Java, Finds America Wonderful And Will Stay

"America is a wonderful country, but I'm afraid of so many cars and tall buildings," said H. H. Trebles, of Java, East Indies, speaking very good English for a man who is just learning the language. Mr. Trebles arrived in New York on June 28, coming by the way of Holland on the New Amsterdam, and learned most of the English on the way over. He speaks several languages.

Coming to the United States to make his home with his son, Rudy Trebles, of Chicago, and Rudy's wife, the former Jana Ray Lee, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Lee, 414 Wilkerson, he shows his delight in his new country by his happy smile.

Shown About Sedalia

He is seeing a bit of the mid-west, too, for the son is losing no time in showing his Sedalia, where Jana Ray lived from a tiny baby until she was seven years old, and where her parents returned the past year to make their home, after living for a number of years in Kansas City. He wants to show him, too, where he was stationed in Leavenworth, Kas., with other Dutch boys training for military service. That was how he met Jana Ray and in August 1943 married her in Kansas City. They left Wednesday afternoon for Kansas City after spending since

Friday with Dr. Lee. Mrs. Lee was at the Trebles' home in Chicago taking care of Linda Lee Trebles, 10½ months old, who couldn't make the trip because she gets car sick. "I would have liked so much to have brought her along," said the mother, "to show her off. But she gets sick."

H. H. Trebles was born in Germany, the son of a German father and French mother. He lived in Germany until he was 23 years old, when he went to the Dutch East Indies, where he was employed by the Dutch government. At the age of 47 he received a pension from the Dutch government, but not wanting to be idle and having learned watch making in Germany he established a watch making and jewelry shop in Java.

When the war came he would probably have been left alone had he not had the jewelry shop, but the Japanese took over the jewelry shop and put him in the concentration camp, where he spent three years. His wife and three daughters were in a concentration camp for women and the girls were put to work in the rice fields.

Could Have Escaped Camp

Had Mr. Trebles been willing to display the Swastika of Germany, which was his country, he could have escaped the concentration camp, but his brother was born in Java and his son was fighting in the Dutch army, and he could not go against his people.

Living only on a small bowl of rice a day and a little hard bread made of starch he became very thin and ill. His body became filled with his water and his skin died. If they didn't show pep they were hit by guards. They ate snakes, snails and even rats in order to get food. When they were released from the camps Mr. Trebles was 90 per cent dead and had been thrown on a pile of corpses when his family arrived. Rudy, his only son, was with the Dutch Air Forces at that time in Australia, and flew there after his family. He insisted on taking his father, although the persons in charge told him there was no use. He flew him back to Australia, where he received good medical attention and today Mr. Trebles is in good health. He lost all his teeth, but is proud of the set, Dr. Lee, who is a dentist, had just made for him.

Mrs. Trebles died two years ago and since that time Mr. Trebles has been trying to get his birth certificate to come to the United States. Finally the birth certificate was obtained and all other arrangements made.

Proud of Citizenship

Rudy and Jana Ray, who had gone to Australia after their marriage and had lived in Java, returned in 1947 to the United States of which Rudy proudly claims he is now a citizen.

Mr. Trebles, who lost his 24 room house, his jewelry store and his money in the car, is glad to get to America, and feels that he is almost an American because Rudy initiated him with a rocket ride at Coney Island. He doesn't want another ride, he said.

He can not receive his pension from the Dutch government or his money because they will not want to pay in money.

Now Mr. Trebles wants only one thing more. That is for his two daughters, one who is married and has a child, in Holland, and the other in Batavia, Java, to come to America. The third daughter already is in the United States and resides in Chicago.

Mr. Trebles, upon his return to Chicago, after his trip to Missouri, to open up his jewelry shop there.

Court Rules In Favor Of The AP

MUSKOGEE, Okla., July 28—(AP)—Federal Judge Eugene Rice has ruled in favor of the Associated Press, complainant in a $3,593 breach of contract suit against the Valley Publishing Co., of Pauls Valley, Okla., I was disclosed on Wednesday.

The publishing firm, which prints and distributes the Pauls Valley Daily Democrat, contracted for the news service April 1, 1947.

Judge Rice held that owner James T. Jackson attempted to resign from the service without regard to a contract clause requiring two-year notice of discontinuance.

Jackson then declined to honor drafts for AP service in the weeks of July 12 and July 19, 1947, records show. The AP subsequently suspended service and removed its teletypes.

Most of Polio In Nine States

With 6,935 Cases Reported 337 Had Resulted Fatally

By the Associated Press
Infantile paralysis cases in 1949 are running far ahead of 1944—the second worst polio year in U. S. history.

An Associated Press survey today showed 6,935 cases over the nation through July 27, with 337 polio deaths.

In 1944 the total for the same date was 4,176. Totals for 1944 eventually reached 19,029, topped only by 27,363 in 1916.

The U. S. Public Health Service in Washington reported the 6,339 cases as of July 23 this year was 38.4 per cent higher than the 4,580 reported through the same date in 1948—and 1948 was a near-record year.

The polio appeared to be gaining strength with the hot weather. Government figures showed 1,444 new cases during the week ending July 23. This was an increase of 47.5 per cent over the same week of 1948, which had 979. In 1944, there were 915 new cases for the week ending July 27.

For the most part the polio upsurge appeared to be fairly evenly distributed over the nation. Only scattered epidemic areas were reported.

Decline in Eight States
At least 33 states reported a step-up in the polio rate, while eight showed a decline.

Nineteen states have had more than 100 cases this year compared with only seven states above the 100 mark at the same time last year.

Nearly two-thirds of the nation's polio was centered in nine states. The leaders were Texas, 1,123; California, 708; Arkansas, 488; Oklahoma, 440; New York, 353; Missouri, 302; Minnesota, 286; Michigan, 270, and Illinois, 259.

Oklahoma health authorities said more than half of the state's 440 cases already have recovered. They said they had enough equipment to take care of patients, but not enough trained personnel.

New York City, which has had 14 polio deaths since July 1, issued an emergency call for nurses.

The Red Cross said Arkansas was one of the hardest hit states in the nation. Most of the victims were stricken during May, June and July.

Iowa authorities reported 124 polio cases so far this year as against 118 at the same time in 1948—the state's record year.

Texas health directors said the state "has had more polio this year than ever before in its history." There were 67 polio deaths during the first six months of this year.

At Springfield, Ill., all children under 16 were quarantined and the public swimming pool was closed for the rest of the season, after 17 polio cases and two deaths struck the city this month.

The Plea Of A Stricken Lad Is Fulfilled

Truck Load Of Mail Sent To Child Who Suffers With Cancer

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 8—(P)—A Hazel-eyed four-year old who doctors say hasn't long to live was having his big wish fulfilled Wednesday.

He was getting lots of mail, as a sympathetic nation responded to his plea.

Four months ago little Bobby Byers began to feel tired. More and more he would say, "Mommie, I hurt."

He Lost His Joy
Later doctors found that Bobby had cancer. He lost his joy in toys and playthings. He couldn't run with other children.

From his bed Bobby would ask his mother each day if the mailman had left anything for him. He found joy in opening those get-well cards and having his mother read them to him.

At first mail came from friends and neighbors.

Two days ago Bobby's story was told to the world. Yesterday he received 200 cards and letters. Today more than 3,000 pieces of mail were delivered to Bobby's home at 537 West Missouri avenue here.

More continues to pile up at the branch postoffice. Wayne Elliott, assistant superintendent, said a special truck probably will be needed.

Has Several Helpers

On hand to help Bobby open letters and packages were his mother, Mrs. H. J. Byers, his brother, Jack, 12, and his sisters Joan, 15, and Judy, 10.

Even the postman, Arthur Hammon, stopped for a few extra minutes.

Bobby now is an honorary deputy sheriff and also has been invited to be a special guest at Williams Air Force Base, Col.

THE ICEMAN COMETH TO THE RESCUE—Ralph Bailey of a Ludlow, Mass., ice company makes a stop at an artificial pond each day and delivers a half ton of ice to the fish. So far, according to Al Fuller, who built the pond, the stunt has saved many fish from death in the tepid water. Young bathers on hand don't seem to object to lowering the temperature of the water either.

Robert L. Scott, base commander, included pictures of jet planes in his letter to the boy.

Each evening Bobby's father takes him for strolls in a buggy. The boy's legs won't support him. Often the whole family goes along. They still hope the doctors are wrong.

Create 27 New Federal Circuits

WASHINGTON, July 28—(P)—The Senate completed congressional action Wednesday upon legislation to create 27 additional federal circuit and district judges. Action was by voice vote adopted.

ing a conference agreement that was approved by the House yesterday.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) delayed final approval briefly by protesting elimination of a Senate provision that would have barred appointment of attorneys from government agencies to the new federal judgeships.

He said appointment of former government attorneys resulted in trying to get political rather than judicial talent.

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) of the Senate judiciary committee said he agreed with Ferguson but House members would not agree.

The bill would create a new circuit judgeship in the tenth district, which includes Kansas and Oklahoma.

Also, among the 21 new district

Warsaw Wreck Injures Five

A collision of two automobiles about a mile south of Warsaw on Highway 65, injured five persons, none seriously. The accident occurred on a curve about 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

Francis Tolivar, 21, who resides at the Missouri State school at judgeships to be established would be one for Kansas.

The bill would make permanent one temporary judgeship each in the eastern and western districts of Missouri, and the western district of Oklahoma.

Marshall, was the driver of a 1949 club coupe, and headed north on the highway and Carl Geier, 28, Ingokern, Calif., was the driver of the 1949 Chevrolet sedan, the other car involved in the accident, which was headed south.

According to the State Patrol Geier started to pass a truck and in doing so his car and the car driven by Tolivar collided. About $350 damages resulted to the Geier car and $500 damages to Tolivar's car.

Riding with Tolivar were his wife, Mrs. Claudine Tolivar, 18, and Sidney Garner, 12, 510 South

Grant avenue, Marshall. All three received lacerations and bruises about their heads, but their injuries were not considered serious. The three were taken to the Bothwell hospital where Dr. John Carlisle rendered emergency treatment and they continued on to Marshall and entered the Fitzgibbon hospital, where they are being treated by Dr. Veach.

Geier, received lacerations on his forehead, and Bennie Reeder, 43, Bakersfield, Calif., a passenger in Geier's car, received a cut on his head. Mrs. Geier was not injured.

The group in Geier's car was visiting relatives at Warsaw. The driver of the truck was identified as Claude Murray of Springfield, Mo.

Right Of Congress On Atomic Ruling

WASHINGTON, July 28—(P)—President Truman acknowledged the right of Congress to pass upon questions dealing with atomic energy in the field of international relations, Secretary of State Acheson told Congress members.

This is another big reason why we're sure LUCKY STRIKE MEANS FINE TOBACCO!

Tests made by America's largest cigarette research laboratory scientifically help Lucky Strike buyers select the fine tobacco that goes into Luckies!

YOU SEE HERE the largest and most complete laboratory of its kind operated by any cigarette manufacturer in America.

For many years Lucky Strike scientists have delved into cigarette research on an extensive scale. Out of this has grown an elaborate system of quality control. Every step in the making of Luckies—from before the tobacco is bought until the finished cigarette reaches you—comes under the laboratory's watchful eye.

As you read this, a constant stream of tobacco samples from every tobacco-growing area is flowing into the laboratory in Richmond, Virginia. These samples are scientifically analyzed, and reports of their quality go to the men who buy at auction for the makers of Lucky Strike.

Armed with this confidential, scientific information—and their own sound judgment—these men go after finer, lighter, milder tobacco. This fine tobacco—together with scientifically controlled manufacturing methods—is your assurance that there is no finer cigarette in the world today than Lucky Strike!

This scientist knows how to test tobacco. In our Tobacco Control Division, samples sent to the laboratory are subjected to scores of analyses to determine smoking quality. This vital testing, both before and after tobacco is purchased, has been conducted for years — still another guarantee that Lucky Strike means fine tobacco.

Reports received. The laboratory sends results of the analyses to the buying supervisors. This information helps the buyer go after finer, lighter, milder tobacco for Lucky Strike. Thus the judgment of the buyer at tobacco auctions is combined with modern science at the laboratory to assure you that Luckies are a finer, milder cigarette.

Wingless Chickens Are Hits In The Laboratories, But In The Past, They Have Been Flops in the Pot

By NEA Service

OMAHA, Nebraska — Wingless chickens are stirring up a lot of excitement these days, following the announcement of their breeding by a Des Moines, Iowa, veterinarian, but around here wingless chickens get the bird.

First, there's nothing new about them. As far back as 1924, people were successfully developing a wingless strain. In the second place, they turned out to be less meaty than the normal be-winged variety.

Records show that in 1924 W. L. Frank of Sherman, Texas, developed a wingless chicken. He called it a Kiwi, after a wingless New Zealand bird. He even started a Kiwi club of America, but not much came of it.

Just 20 years ago, in July, 1929, NEA Service carried a story about Dr. H. T. Renwald, an Omaha veterinarian. His interest in wingless chickens was entirely scientific, although he did prophesy that "within five years" wingless poultry would be as common as the normal strain. Further, he said the wingless ones laid more eggs and, consequently,

he foresaw the price of eggs falling to around 10 cents a dozen.

His theory that the wingless hens would be eggier was based on the knowledge that ordinary hens have an idle period of about 15 weeks when their wing feathers moult. No wings, no wing feathers, no moulting, no idle period, he figured.

His wingless hens did lay up to 315 eggs a year, which is better than normal. But after the experiment, he turned his breeding records and notes over to a graduate genetics student who wanted the information for a master's thesis.

In 1934, a wingless rooster was born as a freak of nature in Rose Hill, Ky. Scientists of Princeton university got hold of the bird and watched it develop. They concluded, after X-rays and psychological tests, that it was a pleasant creature, but would be useless in the pot.

The breast muscles of birds, which are the largest source of white meat, are their wing pullers. Since "Wingless," as the erudite Princetonians called the freak, had no wings he needed no wing muscles. Hence, "Wingless" was also breastless. All he had to offer for dinner were drumsticks, back and neck.

Purely for Eating are these wingless chickens — a rooster and hen—developed by Peter Baum an of Des Moines. He claims the wingless birds will make better eating, but some people contradict him.

The current wingless breeder, veterinary Peter Bauman of Des Moines, claims the grounded chickens would develop tremendous, luscious drumsticks, since they do so much walking.

Not so, answers Frank E. Mussehl, chairman of the poultry department of the University of Nebraska.

"Take away the wings and soon you will be getting wingless

Purely Scientific interest in wingless chickens was that of Dr. H. T. Renwald. He developed wingless strain, like this one he holds in 1932, then turned his notes over to a student.

runt," he says. He thinks that, without wings, the chicken is liable to become thin and lean. He, like the Princeton poultry proffs, knows that the wing muscles are what make the breasts so thick and tender.

Of course all the pro and con clucking about white meat and drumsticks ignores one large segment of Americans — those who like wings.

As for Dr. Renwald, he's as mildly amazed at the new excitement as he was over all the publicity he got back in 1929. And he's still eating chickens with wings.

Pfc. Chancellor Back From Korea

Pfc. James M. Chancellor, who recently returned to the states after an 18 month tour of duty with the occupational forces in South Korea, is spending a 30 day furlough with his mother and family of 1705 South Osage avenue. He had as his weekend guest Pfc. John Simpson, whose home is in Cairo, Ill. The boys met and became close friends while both were stationed in Seoul, Korea, with the military government.

Will Close Huge Plant to Retire

FRANKFORD, Del., July 27.—(P)—A poultry packing plant, said to be the largest in the world, and employing 650 in this town of 800 persons, will close Saturday. Owners of the Eagle Poultry Packers, Inc., plant, which processes almost 1,000,000 pounds of dressed poultry and has a payroll of about $20,000 weekly, said today they are closing down the business because they wish to retire.

John S. Isaacs, Rehoboth Beach, Del., one of the owners, said closing of the plant will have a serious economic effect upon this town and upon chicken raisers in the whole Delmarva peninsula. "But we must think first of our interests and we want to liquidate our assets," he added.

100 3rd PRIZES — $100 EACH

1,000 4th PRIZES — $10 EACH

NAME THE SHMOO! IT'S FUN TO DO!

FOLLOW THESE EASY RULES

1. Suggest a name for Lil Abner's pet Shmoos whose unusual personality is illustrated above, using only the letters found in the words "Dreft," "Ivory Soap." There is no limit to the number of times any of these letters may be used. Do not use complete words or less than 25 additional words or less than 10 additional letters.
2. Use the special contest entry blank, obtainable free from your dealer, or write on one side of a plain sheet of paper. Be sure to print plainly your name and address.
3. Mail to "Shmoos-Namin' Contest," Box 357, Cincinnati 1, Ohio. Send in as many entries as you wish, but each entry must be accompanied by two Ivory wrappers or one box before midnight August 27, 1949, and received by September 10, 1949.
4. All entries must be postmarked to be eligible.
5. Any resident of Continental United States and Hawaii may compete except employees of Camp E. Proctor & Gamble, their families, and those of their families. Contest regulations are subject to Federal and State laws.
6. First prize will be $20,000 in cash. Other prizes will be: 10 Second Prizes, each $1,000 in cash; 100 Third Prizes, each $100 in cash; 1,000 Fourth Prizes, each $10 in cash.
7. Names will be judged on the basis of attractiveness and suitability. In case of ties entries with names of equal merit will then be judged on the basis of the originality and aptness of the name. In case of a tie, the full prize for which the contestant has entered will be awarded to each. The Shmoos, created by Lil Abner, will be awarded to each person. No entries will be returned. Entries, complete with name and address, must be received by September 10, 1949.
8. The grand prize winner will be announced approximately 4 weeks after the close of the contest over the radio programs "Right to Happiness" and "Guiding Light" to Happiness. "Welcome Travelers" to Happiness will be awarded by mail. Winner lists will be available upon request approximately two months after the close of the contest.

Alicia Hart's Stitch in Time...

Sews up Glamor on Played-out Summer Duds

Last summer's played-out play duds can be put back in the running by simple re-vamping tricks. This girl's beach shirt owes its pick-me-up to a man's red cotton faille necktie and to a new collar cut out of a matching tie. Her skimpy play dress (upper right) was lengthened and frilled at neckline and hemline (right) with eyelet ruffles.

By Alicia Hart
NEA Staff Writer

Give last season's play clothes a chance to be saved from discard before you toss them out of your closet.

Use eyelet ruffles to lengthen and glamorize skirts, to put pretty new frou frou around old neck lines. A deep eyelet embroidered petticoat flounce added to a shrunken hemline will add four inches of length and glamor to a cotton print. Stitch narrower matching eyelet to the bare-topped or off-shoulder bodice that teams with the skirt. If the bodice is self-ruffled, put the lacy one underneath to glam it up.

The neatest conversion trick of the year is to turn two colorful neckties, filched from husband or dad, and use to brighten the outlook of an old beach shirt or coat.

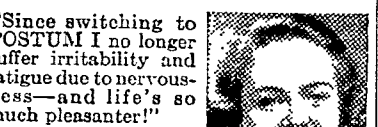

Select two cravats from the tie rack that match or mix well. One will go to make a new beach-shirt collar or a cover for the one you have as well as matching cuffs. The other one will serve the same function as a manly tie knotted under your collar or worn loose with ends flying.

"Too short" shorts take on a new Tyrolean look (and go longer) when a row of wide primary colored peasant embroidery is used to outline the bottom and make gay suspenders. For the latter, the embroidered edging need only be run over the shoulders from the waistline, buttoned front and back and then held taut by a crossbar of edging stitched from suspender to suspender across the chest.

Pure nicker is so malleable that it can be fabricated into tubing finer than the stinger of a mosquito.

"Goodbye to COFFEE NERVES"

"Since switching to POSTUM I no longer suffer irritability and fatigue due to nervousness—and life's so much pleasanter!"

SCIENTIFIC FACTS: Both coffee and tea contain caffeine—a drug—a nerve stimulant. So, while many people can drink coffee or tea without ill-effects, others suffer nervousness, indigestion, sleepless nights. But POSTUM contains no caffeine—nothing that can possibly cause nervousness, indigestion, sleeplessness.

A NEW compact-shaped white shoe cleaner travels in your handbag as a touch-up for white summer shoes. When compact lid is lifted the base forms a "powder puff" which holds a white powdered shoe cleaner behind a protective sifter. A few dabs with this polisher will erase smudges from white buck, suede or other naps and fabric, keep shoes well-groomed outdoors all day.

—By Alicia Hart, NEA Staff Writer

Small clay tiles such as are used for bathroom floors today were first made in northern France about the 12th century.

Plunge in boiling water for 30 to 60 seconds; rinse in cold water. Peel, halve and pit. Simmer in thin to medium syrup for 5 minutes or until fruit is tender. Pack pit side down. Cover with boiling syrup or juice. For very juicy fruit, add 1/4 cup sugar and no water to each pound peaches and pre-cook slowly to draw out juice. Pack hot and cover with boiling juice. 2 to 3 lbs. of fresh peaches will make 1 quart finished fruit. Process in boiling water bath 15 min.

Wants Divorce From Her Cave Man Lover

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—(AP)—Two weeks of marriage to a cave man lover left her a physical wreck. Mrs. Mary Galindo, 47, complained in superior court on Wednesday.

In winning an annulment from Bernard M. Galindo, 47-year-old welder, she testified that when he made love to her he bit her lips so hard she had to call police. At other times he hugged her so amorously he crushed her ribs, she said.

Mrs. Galindo said they were married last May 25 and that she separated from him two weeks later.

Transportation Safer Than Previous Years

CHICAGO, July 27.—(AP)—U. S. transportation was safer last year than at any time during the last ten years, the National Safety Council says.

The combined death rate for passenger automobiles, taxis, buses, trains and air liners was 1.8 deaths per 100,000,000 (M) passenger miles. A passenger mile represents one passenger carried one mile.

Comparative records have been kept only during the last decade. The railroads had the lowest death rate—0.13 per 100,000,000 (M) passenger miles. Buses were second with a rate of 0.18. The airplane rate was 1.3, and that for passenger automobiles and taxis 2.1.

Ballerina Toppers Wrap Fall Finery

By Epsie Kinard
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK — Sausiest little coat of the new season is the ballerina topper.

Swinging into autumn with unrestrained fullness this coat of Monte Sano's design is cut as short as a dancer's skirt. It makes up in width what it lacks in length and in frou frou what it lacks in the more solid virtues of a winter wrap.

Brilliantly colored plaid taffeta—red, green and yellow—lends its crisp charms to one long-waisted jacket which sports a peplum as pert as a ballerina's skirt. This ruffy flounce can be flipped out, tilted up or down or crushed into folds. It owes its antics to a pliable stiffness that is woven into taffeta.

Another ballerina topper which spreads across shoulders like butterfly wings is a flame-colored cape of suede velvet. This cape-coat has the fullness of a dancer's skirt and is quilt stitched in deep bands to strengthen its flip appeal; and again to enforce the flair of full, trumpet shaped sleeves.

Complexion Insurance For Teen-Age Charmers

Beauty Honors — Mom's charm demonstration includes a cleanliness campaign. Daughter puts her first dot of powder on with fresh cotton balls which can be discarded.

By Betty Clarke
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Almost every young girl takes a fling at makeup with or without her parents' permission, just as an experiment. Perhaps she'll use a dab of powder or a bit of lipstick when spending the evening at home, all the while admiring her own reflection in the mirror.

The first step in Mom's guiding program should be to provide grooming aids. A hair brush, comb and complexion brush all are necessary to teen-age grooming. Some mothers select powder and lipstick for daughter and start her out on a "just for parties" makeup. This will satisfy her curiosity and build up her confidence in Mom's suggestions as to tasteful makeup.

One big hurdle for some adolescents to get over is blemished skin. Often they will be misled into believing that heavy cake makeups and foundations will cover over rough blotches and pimples making them unnoticeable. Actually, this will spread the infection.

Youngsters should be taught that cleanliness takes complexion honors and that good soap and water cleansing are necessary for a peaches-and-cream complexion. If a little dab of powder is to be used on chin and nose, to perk up the morale of the teenager with a bad complexion, then be sure that she carries a small envelope of cotton balls in her purse so that she can use a fresh one for each make-up change. Badly soiled powder puffs are no beauty bonus for any complexion.

When daughter uses her party lipstick, she can remove it by dipping the cotton in baby oil to remove every trace of makeup.

Primitive manufacture of iron from ore is believed to have begun in some nations well before 1300 B. C.

In primitive blasti furnaces, hand-operated bellows of skin inside cylinders supplied air to a mixture of iron ore and charcoal in a fire.

Animated Ballroom Silhouettes Float And Flutter Into Fashion

By Espie Kinard
 NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK — If it has a panel that floats, flies or flutters or looks even mildly restless, it's the fall dress with a 1950 style stamp on its silhouette.

If panels don't flutter from day time woollens, after-five crepes and fancy formals, panels, panniers, spiral folds, aprons and other restless drapery animate their slim silhouettes.

One of the most spectacular examples is seen in the overskirt of a blue silk taffeta ballroom gown, which designer Hattie Carnegie also offers to the autumn bride in traditional white. Eleven yards of tulle and as many of silk satin of lighter blue to line it go into the overskirt that floats from the back of a slim-skirted, snug-bodice dress with an off shoulder neckline.

As animated a device to give a

Watches Keep Time With Fashion

By Espie Kinard
 NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK — Now, women will have to find better alibis for being late than the undependable watch.

To make their watches dependable, no matter how small and frivolous looking they are or how absent minded women are about winding, is the idea behind revolutionary designs.

There's a lady's automatic, for example, small, smart, thin, unbreakable and handsomely encased in steel or gold which takes care of the problem of forgetting to wind or of turning acrobat in order to wind. This watch's self-winder is mounted on ball bearings with five microscopic steel balls. Such a mounting allows the weight to wind the main-spring at every rotation, both clockwise and counter clockwise, and keeps the hands, including a sweep second hand, ticking time.

Another time-keeper designed to make old-hat that alibi "Sorry I'm late, guess my watch is slow," features the curved mechanism; curved case, curved movement. These two aids to accurate time-keeping curve together to conform to the shape of the wrist; to fill the case to the maximum with movement. Such practical features in new curvex watches hide behind a facade of glamor; exquisite white or yellow gold cases with silk cord wristbands. Some watches are diamond studded with as many as 22 sparklers set in fashionable cases.

formal gown its new look of movement is used by Eisenberg. A swag of side drapery which is caught into a huge puff at the hip is freed at that point to swing and sway. This drapery animates the slim silhouette of a dress of rose-colored slipper satin which sparkles with "snowflake" embroidery of crystal bugle beads splashed over a strapless cuffed bodice.

The hand-spanning size of actress Gloria Stuart's waist is kept that way by a blouse with a sleek hipband. To eliminate bulk, the pleated shirtwaist is attached to a hand fitted to the hips.

End Shirtfront Pleats at Hip For Gibson Waistline

By Alicia Hart
NEA Staff Writer

How to have your pleated shirt front and your tiny waist too may mean ripping out a pleated shirt tail and remaking it into a fitted hip-band.

If other women who want to look like a Gibson Girl in pleated shirts and slim skirts take this trouble, why can't you?

If you make your own blouses, you can eliminate a bulky shirt tail when you cut and sew. Simply halt those rows of crisp pleats at the waistline and add a smoothly fitted hip-band to your blouse. You can use the same technique on the shirt tail of a blouse that you already have.

rip the pleats out of a shirt tail that adds bulk and remake it into a hip-band that fits as her slip.

The Gibson Girl fashion implies a hand spanning waist line. A woman who wants to look as tiny waisted in her 1949 styled shirt-waist need not allow a bunch of bulky pleats shoved under her skirt band to defeat her aim.

Concordia Family Injured In Japan

TOKYO, Thursday, July 28—(AP)—Army hospital reports today said Lt. Col. Martin F. Tieman, his wife and 9-year-old daughter Murielle are recovering from a weekend traffic accident at Karuizawa, Japanese mountain resort.

Two Japanese were killed when their machine and the Tieman car, with seven passengers, collided. The Tiemans, from Concordia, Mo., and two missionaries, Earl Tygett, Yakima, Wash., and Morris Jacobson, Camrose, Alberta, Canada, were flown to a hospital in Tokyo. Tygett's son Stephen, 3, and daughter, Faith, 6, were injured slightly.

Tieman, chief of the repairs and utilities section, headquarters and service group in Tokyo, has been discharged from the hospital. Murielle will be released in several days. Mrs. Tieman, injured more seriously, will be in hospital some time.

As of January, 1949, the American steel industry had an annual capacity of 96,000,000 tons of steel ingots and castings.

DOUBLE DECKER SANDWICH

2 hard-cooked eggs
1 Tbsp. pickle relish
1/4 tsp. curry powder
1-2 Tbsp. salad dressing salt and pepper

12 slices bread crusts removed 4 slices ham
4 lettuce leaves
4 slices tomato
8 stuffed olives
8 radishes

Combine eggs, relish, seasonings, salad dressing. Spread mixture on 4 slices buttered bread; top each with a second slice of bread, buttered both sides. Place slice of ham, tomato and lettuce on each. Top with third slice of bread, buttered one side. Garnish with stuffed olives and radishes.
